How to Maximise This Week's Deals

Stack your credit cards. If you are using GrabFood for the 1-for-1 McDonald's, pay with a UOB One, OCBC 365, or DBS yuu card to layer cashback on top of the in-app discount. For Isetan NEX, the clearance does not usually accept additional promos but a high-rebate general spend card (e.g. Citi Cash Back+) still nets you 1.6% back on top.

Book Scoot's launch fares early. Launch-week SGD99 and SGD129 seats on Scoot tend to clear within 48 to 72 hours. If Belitung or Pontianak is on your shortlist, lock in your dates this week before the sale window tightens.

Plan your Isetan NEX visit. With six days left until the 26 April closing, go on a weekday morning. Weekends are chaotic, and the best-stocked shelves thin by 3pm. Bring reusable bags as plastic is not a given.

Do not sleep on member discounts. Most of the week's best-value offers (Cold Storage yuu, FairPrice LinkPoints, DBS/UOB bank exclusives) are members only. If you have not downloaded each store's app, that is a free 20-30 minutes this week that will pay you back every month going forward.

Wrapping Up

Singapore's deals scene is cyclical, and this week sits at a particularly generous intersection of F&B 1-for-1s, final-week department store clearances, supermarket BOGOs, and launch-phase travel fares. Pick two or three that match your week's schedule, layer your cards for maximum rebate, and you will have paid for half your groceries and a pizza before the weekend.

Deals verified as of 21 April 2026. Validity dates, T&Cs, and promo codes subject to change always confirm on the official merchant's website or app before purchase.
