

Workfare Skills Support Level-Up: Who The Long-Form Training Support Is For

Description

default watermark

Workfare Skills Support Level-Up is aimed at eligible lower-wage Singapore Citizen workers who want longer training pathways tied to better employment outcomes.

Who Should Look At It

This is not for someone shopping for a one-evening hobby course. WSG lists supported long-form options such as SkillsFuture Career Transition Programmes, Nitec or Higher Nitec qualifications, diplomas, post-diplomas and undergraduate degrees.

How To Use It Sensibly

Start with the job outcome, not the course title. A longer course needs time, household planning and a realistic view of whether the credential will help you move into a better role or strengthen your current one.

More details are available from the official page.
