KrisFlyer members have until 11.59pm on Monday 30 November to book Decemberâ??s Spontaneous Escapes awards, which take 30 per cent off Saver award rates on selected Singapore Airlines flights for travel from 1 to 31 December 2026. Scoot runs its own version alongside, with 15 per cent off Economy Saver awards on selected routes over the same dates.

The 30 per cent discount applies only to the Singapore Airlines flights named in the tables.

The miles in Singapore Airlinesâ?? tables are already discounted, and they are per person for one way. Taxes and fees are paid separately in cash. Every route carries its own flight numbers and blackout dates, and only the flights named in the table qualify. Seats are limited.

Sample Singapore Airlines awards for December

- Singapore to Denpasar, Economy: 5,600 miles on SQ944, SQ946 and SQ948, blacked out from 23 to 27 December.
- Singapore to Kuala Lumpur, Economy: 5,600 miles on SQ126, blacked out on 10 to 12, 18 to 19 and 22 to 27 December.
- Singapore to Phuket, Economy: 9,100 miles on SQ740, blacked out on 5, 10 to 13 and 15 to 29 December.
- Singapore to Perth, Economy: 14,350 miles on SQ213 and SQ225, blacked out on 5, 12 and 18 to 20 December.
- Singapore to London Heathrow, Economy: 30,800 miles on SQ308, blacked out on 4 to 5, 10 to 21 and 30 to 31 December.
- Singapore to Paris, Premium Economy: 52,150 miles on SQ336 and SQ338, blacked out from 1 to 25 December.

Several routes only work in one direction or one cabin. The Bali return leg on offer is Business only, at 15,400 miles on SQ947 and SQ949, with 26 to 31 December blacked out. Melbourne Business is 50,400 miles on SQ237, but 1 to 24 December is blacked out, which leaves the last week of the month. Most of the Europe Economy flights are blacked out until the days around Christmas, so their open dates sit mainly in the last week of the month.

Scootâ??s 15 per cent off

Scootâ??s discounted Economy Saver awards are redeemed through â??Redeem flightsâ?• after logging in with a KrisFlyer account on flyscoot.com or the Scoot app. Its window opened at 9am on 16 November and also closes at 11.59pm on 30 November.

- Singapore to Ipoh: 1,275 miles on TR462, with blackouts on 4 to 6, 10 to 14, 18 to 20, 22 to 27 and 30 to 31 December.
- Singapore to Belitung: 2,125 miles on all flights, with no blackout dates in either direction.

- Singapore to Hat Yai: 2,125 miles on all flights, blacked out on 10 to 14 and 23 to 25 December.
- Singapore to Cebu: 5,100 miles on TR592 and TR556, with no blackout dates.
- Singapore to Athens: 20,400 miles on all flights, blacked out from 4 to 14 December.

Scoot awards are Economy only, with no ScootPlus redemptions or upgrades, and add-ons are bought separately. Scootâ??s cash Black Friday sale also ends on 30 November, though some of its travel periods only start in January.

The rules that catch people out

The Singapore Airlines awards can only be booked on singaporeair.com or the SingaporeAir app, under the Promo column when you redeem, and must be ticketed in the same session. They cannot be booked through KrisFlyer Membership Services, ticket offices or travel agents, and codeshare flights are excluded.

If any flight in an itinerary falls outside 1 to 31 December, or is not on the list, the whole booking loses the discount. Singapore Airlines advises booking the discounted leg as a one-way ticket and the return separately. A return on discounted flights needs both flight numbers to appear in the tables.

Bookings cannot be changed or cancelled, waitlisting is not available, stopovers are not allowed, and the offer cannot be combined with other promotions. It applies only to tickets paid entirely in miles, not to part-miles, part-cash fares. Scoot bookings under the promotion are likewise non-refundable and non-transferable.

The full route tables are on the Singapore Airlines and Scoot pages.
