

Absolut Food Festival: A Taste of Malaysia Food Fair in Singapore

Description

default watermark

For the first time, one of Malaysiaâ??s most popular food fairs, the â??Absolut Food Festival,â?• has made its way to Singapore. The festival is happening from 16th to 19th August 2024 at the Kallang open carpark, offering a unique opportunity to savour a wide variety of flavours and products from Malaysia.

When my colleague mentioned the event, I was intrigued and decided to check it out myself. The festival features about 130 booths, showcasing an exciting mix of food and retail brands from both Malaysia and Singapore.

As we arrived, we were greeted by a long, snaking queue. Initially, I considered skipping the event altogether, thinking the line was for entry. However, upon closer inspection, I discovered that the queue was actually for the famous Kunafa Aiwahhh stallâ??a testament to its popularity. Be prepared for a wait of 2-3 hours if you plan to indulge in this particular treat.

default watermark
Satay Ummi
BY LYDIA FIZAH
CHICKEN $11
BEEF $12
MUTTON $13
OTAH-OTAH TO PICK $10
EXTRA KETUPAT $1
EXTRA GRAVY $1
COLLECTION POINT
SATAY GORENG
NEW MENU
COLLECTION POINT

We tried Satay Ummi at Ramadan Kampong Glam Ramadan Bazaar earlier this year and it was good.

default watermark

default watermark
empedak
1set $10
1Box #15

Cempedak Goreng was delicious. If you havenâ??t tried Cempedak, get it!

default watermark

Fazz Fries
Fazz
BAYAM CRISPY
BAYAM CRISPY
BAYAM CRISPY
default watermark

Fazz Friesâ??s interesting method of putting sauces onto the long fries.

default watermark

BY MANGO
Bossku
6.00 | 1LT $9.00
LIMITED EDITION
STRAWBERRY
Pocky KUNAFA
MANGO
Salted Caramel
LIMITED EDITION
CRISPY
MANGO KUNAFA
CRISPY KUNAFA
CRISPY MANGO
RED VELVET
OLA LOLA

If you canâ??t go home without getting Kunafa, perhaps consider getting one from a local stall? You still have to queue though.

A word of advice: avoid driving to the event. The carpark situation is a hassle, with significant delays both entering and exiting. Public transport is likely the best option.

Adding to the festive atmosphere, several Malaysian celebrities and personalities will be making appearances, making it a star-studded affair. And the best part? Admission is free, so if you no plans this weekend, drop by and experience Absolut Food Festival.

For the latest deals and content, join our Telegram channel here today!

default watermark

You May Also Like

- Enjoy Flavours of Chengdu at Sichuan Alley Telok Ayer
- Guide to the Vehicle Entry Permit (VEP) for entry into Malaysia
- New Bahru. The old Nan Chiau High School, a new dining and shopping concept.

Date Created
16/08/2024
Author
wilbersuen