Description

The adidas Black Friday sale Singapore runs from 25 November to 2 December 2026, with 30% off the Black Friday assortment and an extra 10% off for free adiclub members. adidas says the final discount is applied at checkout. That leaves roughly a week to shop, and the best prices sit in a few specific corners of the sale.

How the adidas Black Friday sale Singapore stacks up

The headline offer is 30% off, with a further 10% for adiclub members. Joining adiclub is free, but you need to be signed in before you pay. One thing to check in your bag: deal listings suggest the 10% comes off after the 30%, which would work out to about 37% off the original price rather than a flat 40%.

adidas lists four fixed-price and deeper-discount pockets on its Singapore homepage:

- Last sizes: flat 50% off.
- Slides: from S$29.
- Lifestyle and sportswear apparel: from S$29.
- Running and training apparel: from S$39, and bags from S$19.

Last sizes is the lobang if your shoe size happens to be in the leftovers, because stock is thin by definition. Browse early in the week, since popular sizes go first. Slides at S$29 and bags from S$19 are the easy wins for gifts, and both sit well below a normal retail tag.

A simple way to play it: sign in to adiclub first, add your sizes to the bag, then check the final total before paying. If the bag shows less than 37% off on an item, look at whether it is part of the exclusions. Anything bought in the Collaborations Archive follows its own pricing, so do not expect the member discount to behave the same way there.

Collaborations archive: up to 60% off

Separate from the main sale, adidas has opened its Collaborations Archive with a limited release of past collaboration styles at up to 60% off. Prices shown on the homepage at the time of writing included the Clot Stan Smith by Edison Chen at S$137.40 (was S$229, 40% off) and the Wales Bonner Superstar at S$257.40 (was S$429, 40% off). A Y-3 Adios 9 was S$295.20 against S$369, 20% off.

These are collector-leaning pairs, so sizes vanish fast. Treat the archive as a separate hunt from the 30% sale, and compare the tag price with the original before you add to bag.

Where to shop and what to check

The sale runs on the adidas Singapore website and app, and at designated adidas stores while stocks last. Online discounts are applied in the shopping bag. Item availability and exclusions differ between online and store, so ask staff if you plan to shop in person.

According to deal listings that summarise the terms, adiclub members get free delivery with no minimum spend, while non-members pay S$8 delivery on orders under S$100. They also report that other vouchers, promo codes and adiclub reward vouchers cannot be combined with the sale unless adidas says so, and that online purchases cannot be exchanged. adidas itself states that terms and conditions apply, so read the full T&Cs on the sale page before paying.
