Kick-off is 4.30pm UK, which is 11.30pm SGT the same calendar day. The Premier League lists the London derby on Sky Sports in the UK. Arsenal's own broadcast guide lists StarHub for Singapore viewers.

Sunday's earlier kick-off

Earlier on the same Sunday card, Everton play Manchester United at 2pm UK time (9pm SGT), also listed on Sky Sports. That fixture sits ahead of the Arsenal-Chelsea kick-off and is the only other Premier League match on the afternoon slate before the Emirates derby.

How Singapore viewers can follow

The Premier League's published broadcast line for Arsenal against Chelsea is Sky Sports. For viewers in Singapore, Arsenal's match-day broadcast page points to StarHub as the local carrier. Check your package listings closer to kick-off for the channel number and any delayed window.
