

SSO presents Augustin Hadelich in Tchaikovsky at Esplanade on 25 and 26 September 2026

Description

The Singapore Symphony Orchestra presents violinist Augustin Hadelich with conductor Pierre Bleuse at Esplanade Concert Hall on Friday and Saturday, 25 and 26 September 2026, both at 7.30pm.

SSO lists standard tickets from S$15 to S$100, with a limited concession band from S$10.50 for students, full-time national servicemen, seniors and persons with disabilities. The programme runs about two hours including a 20-minute intermission.

Hadelich and Bleuse at Esplanade. Photo: Esplanade / SSO.

Programme on the night

SSO opens with Dream(e)scapes, a new commission by Singaporean composer Zechariah Goh. Hadelich then plays Tchaikovsky's Violin Concerto in D major, Op. 35. After the interval come Bartók's The Miraculous Mandarin suite and Ravel's Daphnis et Chloé Suite No. 2.

Tickets, fees and a recital bundle

Standard categories are Cat 1 S$100, Cat 2 S$75, Cat 3 S$55, Cat 4 S$40, Cat 5 S$30 and Cat 6 S$15, before SISTIC booking fees of S$1 to S$6 depending on ticket price. Friends Season Pass holders get 10 per cent off; Gold Friends, donors, group or corporate bookings, and SSG Family get 20 per cent. Students, seniors, NSFs and PWDs can take 30 per cent off Cats 4 to 6 with proof of eligibility.

SSO also sells a 20 per cent off two-concert bundle for Cat 1 to 3 when buyers take one ticket from this programme and one from Augustin Hadelich in Recital on 27 September 2026. The Esplanade page marks the concerts as eligible for SG Culture Pass credits.

Pierre Bleuse conducts the programme. Photo: SSO.

Singapore Symphony Orchestra. Photo: SSO.

Venue and age note

Both evenings are at Esplanade Concert Hall, 1 Esplanade Drive, nearest to Esplanade MRT. SSO recommends ages 7 and above, with no admission for infants in arms or toddlers, and asks latecomers to wait for a suitable pause. Book through SSO or Esplanade's linked ticketing channels.

Date Created

07/09/2026

Author

priya

default watermark