Looking for plans this weekend? Whether you fancy catching shooting stars, rummaging through warehouse sales, or immersing yourself in art and culture, Singapore has plenty on offer from 17 to 19 April 2026. Here is our pick of the best things to do this weekend.

1. Catch the Lyrids Meteor Shower (17â??26 April)

The annual Lyrids meteor shower has officially begun and will grace Singaporeâ??s skies until 26 April. While the peak viewing nights are 22 and 23 April, you can already start spotting shooting stars this weekend, especially between 11pm and 5am when skies are darkest.

You do not need any special equipment â?? just head to a dark spot away from city lights. Popular viewing spots include Changi Beach Park, Labrador Nature Reserve, and East Coast Park. On the peak nights, you could see up to 20 meteors per hour, with the occasional fireball lighting up the sky. Give your eyes at least 15 to 20 minutes to adjust to the darkness before you start scanning.

2. Link Outlet Warehouse Sale at Toa Payoh: Up to 80% Off Branded Sportswear (17â??19 April)

Bargain hunters, this one is for you. The Link Outlet Singapore warehouse sale returns this weekend at Toa Payoh, offering up to 80% off branded sportswear, footwear, and lifestyle apparel. Whether you are looking for running shoes, gym gear, or casual wear, this is the place to stock up without breaking the bank. The sale runs from 17 to 19 April only, so do not miss it.

3. RoboFest 2026: Meet Tomorrow, Today at Science Centre Singapore

Science Centre Singaporeâ??s latest exhibition, RoboFest 2026: Meet Tomorrow, Today, invites visitors to get up close with the machines and technologies reshaping how we live, work, and think. From humanoid robots and AI-powered companions to autonomous drones and surgical machines, this exhibition explores the rapidly advancing world of robotics while examining what it means to stay fully human in an age of intelligent machines.

It is a brilliant outing for families, tech enthusiasts, and anyone curious about where the future is heading. The exhibition is interactive, with plenty of hands-on stations that will keep both adults and children engaged.

4. Crossing Cultures Weekend at the Asian Civilisations Museum

The Asian Civilisations Museum (ACM) is hosting a special Crossing Cultures weekend packed with art, music, and craft activities. Drop in for printmaking workshops, enjoy a silent cinema night under the stars, watch traditional Balinese dance performances, and soak in live music â?? all for free.

This is one of those under-the-radar cultural experiences that Singapore does brilliantly. Whether you are an art lover or simply looking for a relaxed afternoon by the river, the ACMâ??s Crossing Cultures weekend is well worth a visit. The museum is located at 1 Empress Place, right by the Singapore River.

5. PokÃ©mon Day-to-Night Adventure on the Singapore Cable Car

The Singapore Cable Carâ??s PokÃ©mon Day-to-Night Adventure continues until 30 April 2026, and this weekend is a great time to experience it. Ride the Mount Faber Line and use the complimentary UV torches provided to hunt for hidden, glowing PokÃ©mon that only reveal themselves in the dark. It is a delightful twist on the classic cable car experience and a hit with families and PokÃ©mon fans alike.

The ride offers panoramic views of Sentosa, the harbour, and the city skyline â?? made even more magical as day turns to night. Tickets can be booked via the Mount Faber Leisure Group website or at the cable car stations.

6. Singapore Yachting Festival Preview (23â??26 April)

While the Singapore Yachting Festival (SYF) does not officially kick off until 23 April, this weekend is a great time to plan your visit. Taking place at ONEÂ°15 Marina Sentosa Cove, the SYF is a celebration of the marine lifestyle featuring luxury yacht displays, water sports demonstrations, maritime innovation showcases, and networking events for yacht enthusiasts.

Tickets and programmes are now available, so if you have ever been curious about the yachting world or simply fancy a day out at Sentosa Cove with stunning marina views, mark your calendar. The festival runs until 26 April.

7. Morganfieldâ??s 1-for-1 Baby Back Ribs at Suntec City (17â??26 April)

If you are looking for a hearty weekend meal, Morganfieldâ??s has just launched a 1-for-1 Baby Back Ribs promotion at their Suntec City outlet from today, 17 April, until 26 April 2026. At $40.90++, you get two full slabs of their signature Hickory Baby Back Ribs served with French Fries and Purple Slaw. That is outstanding value for a sharing meal.

8. Giant Super Savings Promotion: Up to 68% Off Groceries (Until 22 April)

Need to restock the kitchen? Giant is running its Super Savings promotion with up to 68% off storewide across groceries, household essentials, and fresh produce from now until 22 April 2026. It is a solid excuse to do the weekly shop this weekend and save a few dollars in the process.

9. Tulipmania 2026 at Gardens by the Bay

If you have not yet caught Tulipmania 2026 at Gardens by the Bay, this weekend is an excellent time to go. The floral showcase transforms the Flower Dome into a vibrant Dutch landscape complete with stunning tulip displays, charming windmills, and artistic replicas of masterpieces such as The Starry Night. It is one of the most Instagrammable exhibitions in Singapore right now.

10. Enjoy the Rail Mall Car-Free Weekend (Until 19 April)

Block 1 at The Rail Mall has gone car-free until 19 April, transforming the space into a pedestrian-friendly zone where families and friends can enjoy alfresco dining surrounded by greenery. There is upbeat music, a bouncy castle for the kids, and a laid-back vibe that makes it perfect for a casual weekend hangout. The Rail Mall is located along Upper Bukit Timah Road, close to Hillview MRT.
