BTS THE CITY ARIRANG at National Gallery Singapore runs from 11 to 31 December 2026, and tickets went on sale on 17 November. A self-guided art trail costs S$25 for locals and S$35 for other visitors, a guided trail starts at S$35, and a two-night Gallery Rave is S$78. The Gallery says most guided tour dates are already fully booked or very limited, and the bandana packages have sold out.

Here is what is on, what each ticket costs, and how to avoid missing out.

What BTS THE CITY ARIRANG at National Gallery Singapore includes

The programme sits alongside the Galleryâ??s Pop after Pop: Art around Us exhibition, which opens on 11 December. The centrepiece is the Pop after Pop | BTS THE CITY ARIRANG Art Trail, which pairs 14 artworks with songs from BTSâ?? album ARIRANG. The works include pieces by David Hockney and Apinan Poshyananda.

Around that, the Gallery has added photobooths and photo spots, themed menus at Bakery Brera CafÃ©, Rempapa and Milli Sky Dining & Bar, and a flagship BTS POP-UP: ARIRANG with official concert merchandise. The pop-up is on the Supreme Court Terrace from 4 to 31 December.
