Bushiroad Card Game Festival 2026 in Singapore is set for 1 and 2 August at Suntec Singapore Convention & Exhibition Centre, Hall 405-406. The official page also labels the event TableCon Quest 2026.

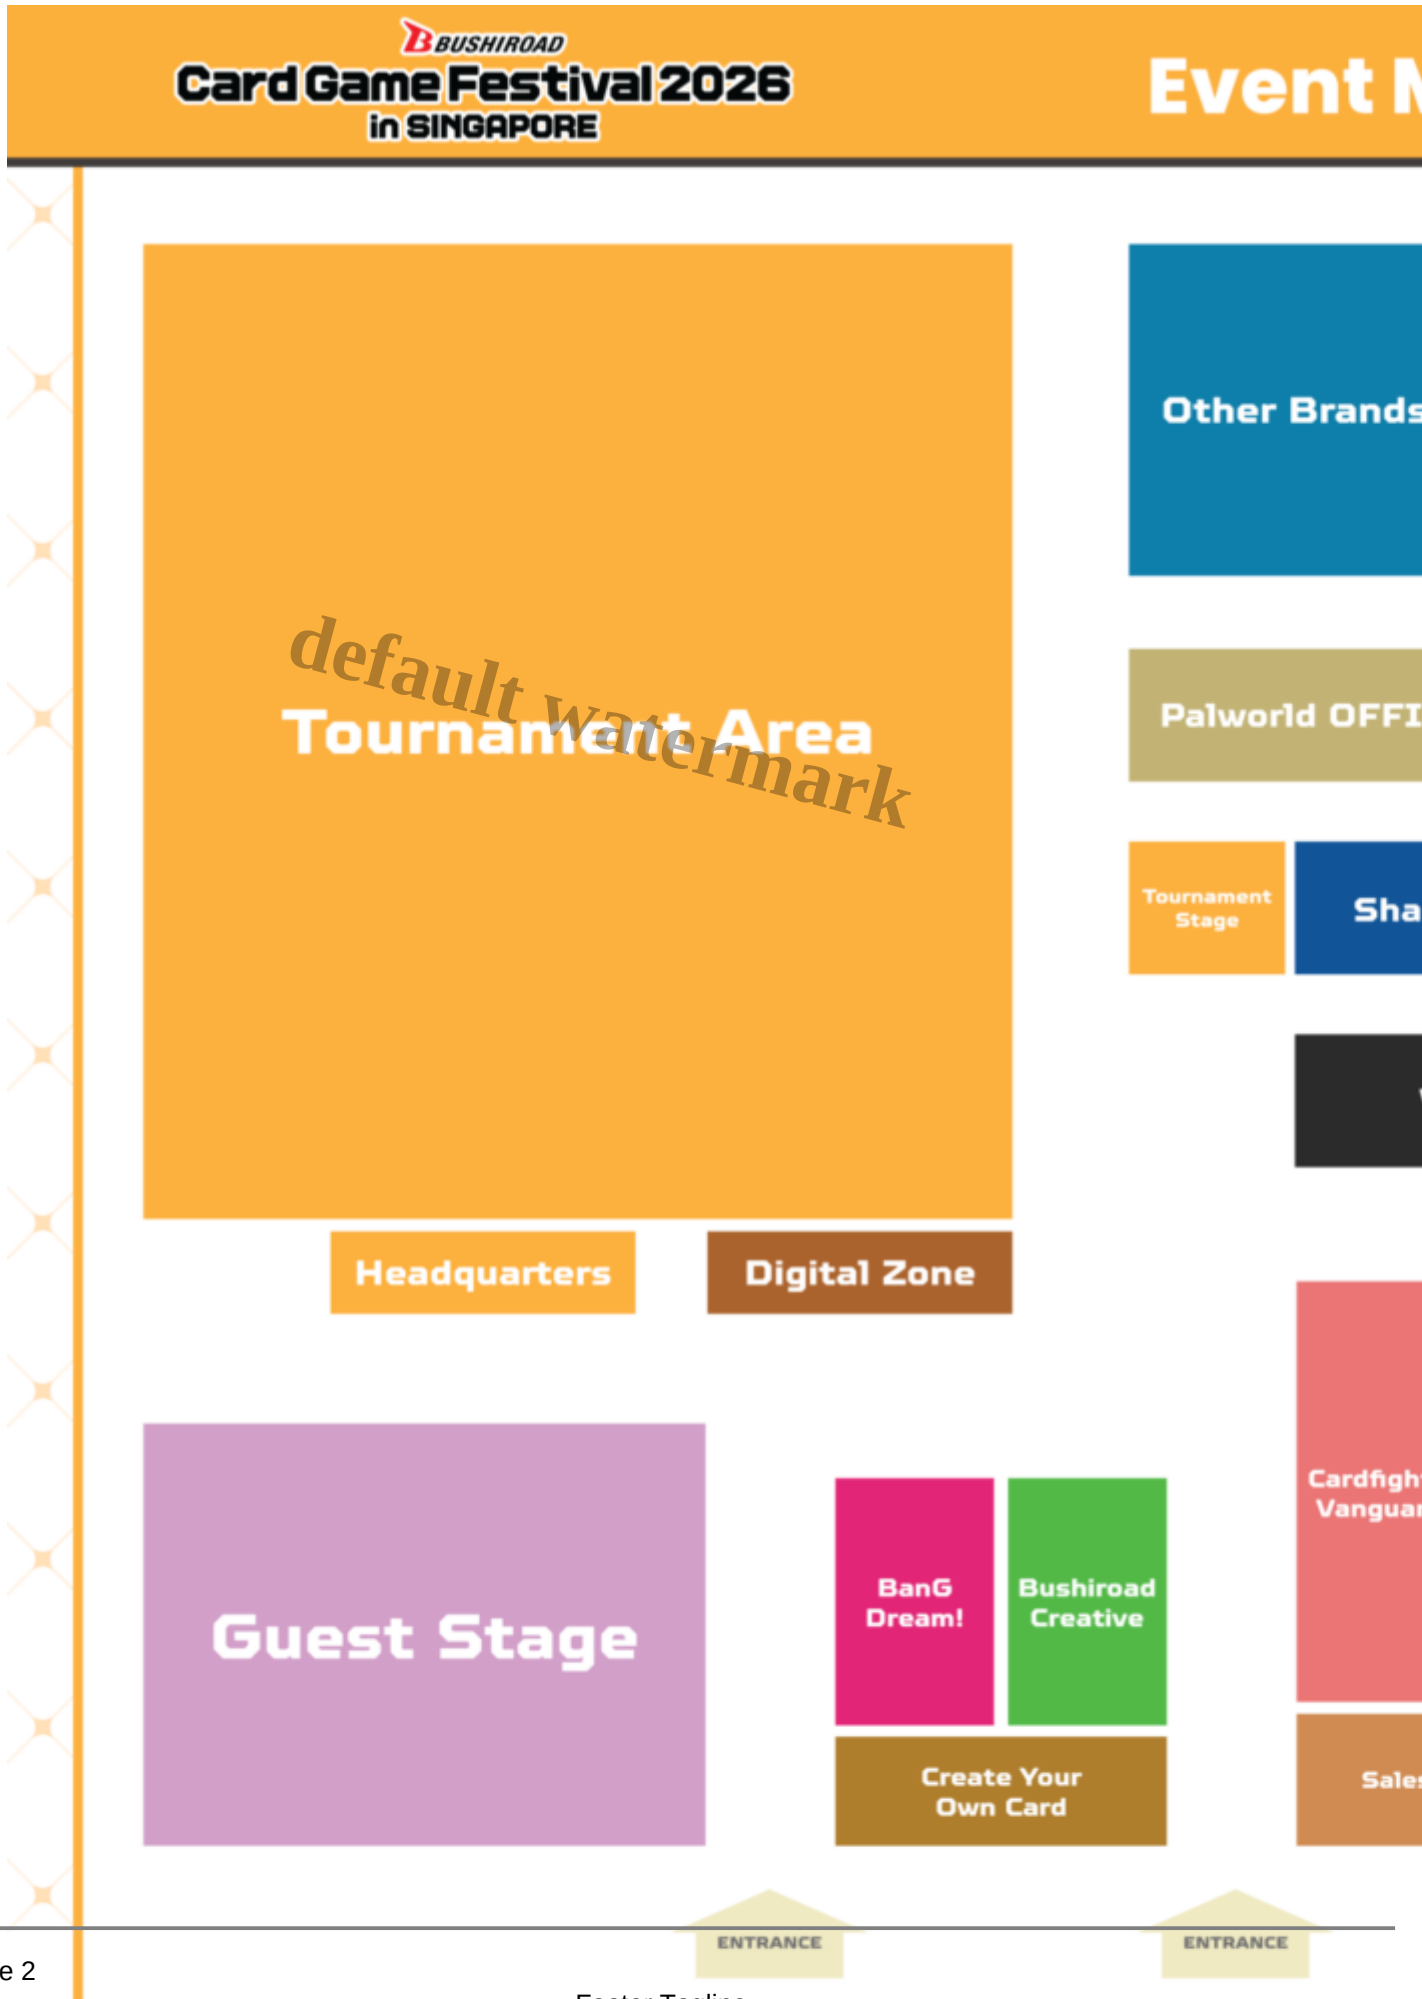

Bushiroad calls it the largest-ever festival in its Card Game Festival series and says it is returning to Singapore for the second time. The format mixes trading-card game demos, stage features, tournaments, exhibitions and visitor benefits.

Games And Timing

The festival is listed from 10am to 8pm daily, with opening hours subject to change. Bushiroad names Cardfight!! Vanguard, Weiss Schwarz, Shadowverse: Evolve, hololive Official Card Game and Palworld Official Card Game among the games featured.

For players, the event is useful because it combines competitive structure and casual discovery in one hall. Families or first-time visitors can use demo sessions, while active players can watch tournament details and purchase rules more closely.

Visitor Notes

The official page says entrance tickets may be purchased through the linked ticket page. If you are going for entry gifts or purchase campaigns, arrive early enough to avoid stock-limit disappointment.

Players should separate tournament needs from shopping plans. Bring sleeved decks, storage, dice, counters and any documents required by the tournament rules, then keep a lighter bag if you plan to buy product or merchandise after matches.

First-time visitors can still enjoy the event without entering a tournament. The useful route is to try demos early, walk the map, decide which games deserve more time and leave purchases until you know whether you are buying into Cardfight!! Vanguard, Weiss Schwarz, Shadowverse: Evolve, hololive Official Card Game or another title. Suntec food breaks are easy, but queues can still cut into tournament timing.
