

Castlery x Tan France collection stays on sale in Singapore with warehouse dates into mid-September

Description

Castlery is still selling its first designer home collection with Tan France in Singapore, with several pieces listed to leave the warehouse by 11 September 2026.

The 18-piece range sits on castlery.com/sg and at the brand's Orchard showroom at Liat Towers. Published prices run from S$299 for the Tarin travertine drink table to S$3,198 for the Kagan leather three-seater sofa.

Sofas and tables that take floor space

The feather-filled Kagan three-seater is S$2,198. The American top-grain leather version is S$3,198. Extended leather layouts climb past S$4,500.

The Anaya rectangular tea table is S$699, with carved oak detailing and a low profile. The Avan dining set, solid wood with sculptural legs, is S$2,849 on the current list, marked down from S$2,995. Avan chairs are sold separately at S$399 fabric and S$499 leather on the collection page.

Mirrors and small storage

Rayan brings an arched solid rubber-wood frame: S$799 for the floor mirror and S$499 for the wall mirror. Those are the lighter footprint options if a sofa swap is not the job.

Rava storage sits higher: S$1,499 for the TV console and S$1,699 for the sideboard, both with soft-close doors and a water-based coating. The Tarin drink table at S$299 is the entry price on the living-room list, 30.5 cm across, with a travertine top.
