Description

Charles & Keith has put its Black Friday sale online, with up to 50% off plus an extra 10% off, and the Charles & Keith Black Friday sale ends on 30 November 2026. It started on 20 November, so you have nine more days to get your cart sorted.

The sale is marked online only on the Singapore site, so do not expect to walk into a store and get the same prices.

What the Charles & Keith Black Friday sale covers

The banner on the Singapore homepage reads up to 50% off, plus an extra 10% off, with terms and conditions attached. The brand does not list a single price tag on the front page, so the actual savings depend on which styles are marked down.

The holiday 2026 collection is also on the homepage, and it is a good indicator of what is in stock now. Look at these categories first:

- Shoulder bags, including the bow-detail styles in black and a pale sage suede.
- Mary Jane flats, with a crystal-mesh pair shown for the party season.
- Bag charms and keychains, including a green Christmas-tree charm.
- Crossbody bags, with a feminine corporate edit for work.

Perks that stack on top of sale prices

The Singapore site lists a few standing member perks. How they combine with the sale is covered by the terms, so check the cart before you pay.

- New account members: S$5 off the first order.
- Students: 10% off regular-priced items.
- Gold members: 10% off, year-round.
- Free standard delivery on orders above S$70.
- Same-day click and collect at 6 stores.

The student and Gold perks are written for regular-priced items and members, so do not assume they apply to every sale item. If a code is rejected, that is usually why.

The delivery threshold of S$70 is low, so most bag or shoe orders clear it. Click and collect is the fast route if you need something for a weekend event.

How to shop it without overspending

Black Friday itself falls on 27 November, with Cyber Monday on 30 November, and this sale is already running ahead of both. If you have been eyeing a bag or a pair of flats since the last drop, you do not have to wait for the crowd. Here is a simple routine.

1. Make a shortlist of two or three items you actually need, and set a ceiling before you open the app.
2. Log in or create an account so your new-member or Gold perk shows at checkout.
3. Add enough to cross S$70 for free delivery, but only if the extra item is something you would buy anyway.
4. Choose same-day click and collect if you are near one of the 6 stores and want the item today.
5. Read the final line of the cart, because the extra 10% and any member discount depend on the terms.

A note on gifting

Charles & Keith pieces suit Christmas gifting, since the charms and small bags are easy to wrap and easy to size. A bag charm is the cheapest way to spend into the free-delivery threshold without buying a full bag. Just make sure the item you add is one the person would really use.
