

Christmas Wonderland 2026 with kids: S$7 child tickets, under-3s free

Description

default watermark

Christmas Wonderland 2026 with kids starts tomorrow, 27 November, and a child aged 3 to 12 gets in for S$7 while under-3s go free. Adults pay S$9 to S$13 if you book ahead, and the fair at Gardens by the Bay runs until 3 January 2027. Here is how the tickets, session times and logistics work when small people are in tow.

Christmas Wonderland 2026 with kids: tickets and what a family pays

Entry is by timed session, and the organiser sells four slots a night: 6.30pm, 7.30pm, 8.30pm and 9.30pm. The fairground is open from 6.30pm to 11pm, with last entry at 10.15pm. Prices include GST.

- Adult, advance: S$9 off-peak, S$11 peak, S$13 super peak. Same-day adult tickets are S$12, S$14 and S$16, subject to availability.
- Child (3 to 12 years): S$7 on every date.
- Below 3 years old: free.
- Off-peak: 27 November to 3 December and 7 to 10 December.
- Super peak: 4 to 6 December, 11 to 13 December and 18 to 27 December.
- Peak: 14 to 17 December and 28 December to 3 January.

So a family of four (two adults, two children) pays S$32 on an off-peak weekday evening, and S$40 on a super peak weekend, if you buy in advance. Advance tickets close at 11.59pm the day before. A limited number of on-site tickets carry a S$3 surcharge, and the booths shut at 10pm.

Source: Gardens by the Bay

The bits children will actually care about

Flying Santa returns to the Meadow, with his sleigh soaring overhead up to six times a day on select dates, weather permitting. Blizzard Time happens three times daily at the Spalliera, a 20m handmade light display at Supertree Grove, when snow bursts into the air around it. New this year are a 20m-tall Elf Treehouse and Santa Mission Control, where visitors step into the gift factory.

Carnival rides include the Mini Viking, Bumper Cars and a two-storey carousel, with games like Ring Toss and Snowball Cannon. These cost extra, as do the OCBC Skyway, Supertree Observatory, Floral Fantasy and the conservatories. The organiser says all visitors receive complimentary coupons worth up to S$50 on lifestyle booths, games and rides from 27 November to 10 December, so ask at the gate.

Source: Gardens by the Bay

Getting there and getting around with little ones

The organiser strongly encourages public transport because parking is limited. The nearest station is Bayfront (CE1/DT16): take Exit B, follow the underground linkway and cross the Dragonfly or Meadow Bridge for Gate 3. On the Thomson-East Coast Line, Gardens by the Bay station (TE22) Exit 1 leads to Gate 1, about 11 minutes on foot.

- Grab: up to S$5 off selected rides to or from Gardens by the Bay from 27 November to 3 January, for Group Ride, Premium, Kid-friendly and Pet-friendly rides only. Use the promo code on the organiserâ??s page.
- Marathon weekend: on 5 and 6 December, all Gardens carparks close until 8am and 11am respectively, and taxis and ride-hailing use Marina South Avenue during those hours.
- Toilets: they sit outside the fairground at Gate 2, Gate 3 and near Jurassic Nest Food Hall for Supertree Grove, and next to Gate 4 for the Meadow.
- Re-entry: allowed through selected gates near Supertree Grove until 10.45pm.

Practical tips before you book

It is a rain-or-shine event, and tickets are non-exchangeable and non-refundable for the date and session you pick. Outside food and drinks are generally not allowed, though lockers are available to rent for shopping. Pick the 6.30pm session if your child melts down early, since the 9.30pm slot is a late night for a school-holiday kid.

Want something cheaper first? Our Super Mario Holiday Power-Up guide at VivoCity covers free zones, and the KKH child injury prevention checklist for the holidays is worth a read before you head out to any crowded venue.

default watermark

Prices and dates are from Gardens by the Bay and the Christmas Wonderland organiser as at 26 November 2026, and may change, so check christmaswonderland.sg before you buy.

Date Created
26/11/2026
Author
nuraisyah