The songs and the staging

SISTIC says Chyi Chin returns to the stage with a new band line-up, reworking his hits, from the rock number ç?¼ (Wolf) to å¤§çº¦å?¨å?¬å£ (Around Winter) and å¤?é•¢ç??ä¸?ç?? (The World Outside).

Lianhe Zaobao, the concertâ??s designated media partner, reported on 28 November that the night will include more songs. The rock numbers are ç?¼, ä¹•ä¸ªå¤ªé?³ (Nine Suns) and ç??æµ•. The love songs are ä¸•è®©æ??ç??ç?¼æ³ªé?ªæ??è¿?å¤? (Donâ??t Let My Tears Keep Me Company Through the Night), å¤§çº¦å?¨å?¬å£, å¾?äº?é?•é£? (Let the Past Go with the Wind) and æ?¬å´?. The reflective ones are å??æ•¥ç??æ??, å¼ ä¸?ç??æ? (Zhang Sanâ??s Song) and å¤?é•¢ç??ä¸?ç??. English titles are our translations.

The same report says the staging pairs a minimalist rock look with a warm, retro mood, using black-and-white imagery, visuals about the passing of time and poetic text, with low-saturation warm lighting. SISTIC adds that the production may include strobe lighting, fog or haze, which can affect people sensitive to light or with respiratory conditions.

Age rules and the night itself

The rating is still to be advised. The recommended age is 4 and above, and children below 4 are not admitted. Every patron needs a ticket, and children under 12 must be with a parent or guardian. Random age checks at the door can mean producing identification.

Doors open 90 minutes before the show, and latecomers are admitted only at a suitable break in the performance. Outside food and drinks are not allowed unless bought or served as part of the event. A cloakroom is available, and photography, filming, audio recording and live streaming are prohibited. Booster seats are not provided, though parents may bring their own.
