Samsung Singapore Black Friday 2026 offers are already live on the brandâ??s online shop, and the main phone deals run to 8 December 2026. The Galaxy S26 Ultra gets S$400 off, the Galaxy Z Fold8 gets up to S$300 off, and a TV trade-in can knock up to S$1,000 off a new Samsung Smart TV until 31 December 2026. Samsungâ??s offers page also has a Black Friday section, but it shows no discounts or end dates yet, so treat the dated deals below as the firm ones.

Samsung Singapore Black Friday 2026 offers at a glance

- Galaxy S26 Ultra: S$400 off plus a Livestream Special, valid until 8 December 2026
- Galaxy Z Fold8: up to S$300 off plus 5x Rewards Boost, valid until 8 December 2026
- Galaxy Watch Ultra2: 15% off with any Galaxy smartphone or Tab in the same transaction, valid 7 November to 8 December 2026
- TV Upgrade Offer: up to S$1,000 instant discount with a trade-in, valid until 31 December 2026
- 5% off your first purchase, applied at checkout with no minimum spend, valid until 31 December 2026

No promo codes are listed on the page. Offers apply automatically or at checkout, and most carry a â??while stocks lastâ?• line.

Galaxy Z Fold8: how the S$300 works

Phone shoppers should know the S$400 off the S26 Ultra and the Fold8 voucher are separate promos on separate models. The page says neither can be stacked with other promotions, so pick the one that fits your budget. The Fold8 also carries a 5x Rewards Boost for Samsung Rewards members.

The Fold8 promo comes as an e-voucher, not a cash discount at the till. Per the terms, the voucher is worth S$288 on a Galaxy Z Fold8 Ultra or Fold8 1TB, S$138 on a 512GB model and S$48 on a 256GB model. That is how the headline â??up to S$300â?• breaks down, so the tier you buy matters.

E-vouchers cannot be exchanged for cash, and the promo cannot be stacked with other promotions. It runs from 7 November, 12.00am, to 8 December 2026, 11.59pm. Parts of the terms on the page are garbled, so confirm your exact storage tier at checkout.

Trade-in and TV upgrade

If you have an old TV gathering dust, the TV Upgrade Offer gives up to S$1,000 off a new Samsung Smart TV when you trade in eligible old sets. It runs to 31 December 2026 and is limited to eligible devices, while stocks last. Samsung also lists a free 3-year warranty on a new TV if you register it within 30 days.

Samsung Care+ for home appliances and TVs is also advertised from as low as S$2 a month, and free delivery applies on selected items bought from the online store. Neither is a headline saving, but both add up on a big purchase.

Mobile trade-in values are generally valid from 7 November to 8 December 2026 unless stated otherwise. Values depend on the model and the condition of your device, and Samsung can change the eligible list without notice.

Pay smart, and check the rivals

1. Use the first-purchase 5% off if you are a new Samsung shop customer, as it needs no code.
2. Look at 0% instalments for purchases above S$500 with DBS, UOB, OCBC, SCB or Trust cards. Samsung does not list an end date for this on the page.
3. Bundle the Galaxy Watch Ultra2 with a phone or tablet in one basket to get the 15% off.
4. Compare prices elsewhere. Our Tech Show 2026 guide lists the year-end cash rebate, and the Apple TV 4K price story helps if you are weighing streaming boxes against a new smart TV.

Black Friday itself falls on 27 November, and Samsungâ??s Black Friday section has no details yet, so more offers may follow. Check the Samsung Singapore offers page before you pay, since dates and amounts can change without notice.
