Description

We received an invitation from Dr. Hauschka, and I realized weâ??ve been getting invitations from them for years, but we were never able to attend due to time constraints.

Thankfully, this time we managed to set aside time to accept their invitation and see what it was all about.

Honestly, upon arriving at the event, it felt a little strange as Willie and I were the only guys there; the rest of the guests were female. Fortunately, Lyne made us feel right at home.

Since we were new to the brand, she took the time to introduce us to their products, and we tried a variety of them on our hands. It was probably the only time our hands had felt as smooth as when we were babies. Dr. Hauschka offers top-to-toe beauty careâ??covering hair, oral care, face, body, hands, nails, legs, and feet.

Dr. Hauschka is a pioneering natural cosmetics brand from WALA Heilmittel GmbH, which has been producing 100% genuine and effective natural cosmetics for over 50 years. For Dr. Hauschka, natural cosmetics are not just a passing trend; they are a long-standing tradition. Today, the brand exports to over 40 countries.

The raw materials used in their premium products, certified to the international NATRUE standard, are carefully selected. Where possible, they are grown biodynamically in the companyâ??s own medicinal herb garden or on its Demeter farm. These ingredients are often harvested in the early morning to preserve their full natural potency. The raw materials that arenâ??t grown in-house are sourced from wild harvesting methods and organic cultivation projects worldwide.

Dr. Hauschka products are free from synthetic fragrances, dyes, preservatives, silicones, PEGs, and mineral oils, all while respecting the natural rhythms of nature and the skin.

The other 3 gift sets:

Winter Essentials â?? These little everyday heroes keep your skin nourished throughout the winter.

Rose Ritual â?? Individual plant formulations give it the boost it needs every day whilst precious oils nourish and protect.

Lavender Harmony â?? The precious essential oils in lavender are pleasantly fragrant and soothing.

During the event, we sampled a wide range of products. They all smelled clean and pure, but the one that stood out to me was their Lavender series. I personally love products with a strong, pleasant scent because, aside from serving their primary function, a good scent enhances the userâ??s experience, making you feel even better.

In this set, lavender shows its versatility with a body wash, body oil, and soap. The gentle Lavender Sandalwood Calming Body Wash seduces the senses with its subtle fragrance, while the protective Moor Lavender Calming Body Oil warms the body and shields it from external elements. The exclusive Lavender Soap gently cleanses the skin, leaving it feeling silky-smooth.

Coincidentally, Lyne recommended the Lavender gift set to me. I plan to use it and will provide a proper review later on.
