

Punggol Digital District Career Fair on 11 December: Free Entry, Plus a Cybersecurity Fair on 12 December

Description

The Punggol Digital District career fair on 11 December 2026 is free to attend, and it is only one part of a three-day job-hunting weekend. From 11 to 13 December, e2i is running a Career Launch at the districtâ??s Opening Festival, with a career fair on the Friday and a career talk on the Sunday. A separate cybersecurity career fair follows on Saturday 12 December.

If you have been scrolling job boards without much luck, this is a chance to talk to employers face to face. The venue is Punggol Digital District (Nexus and Campus Heart) at 88 Punggol Way, Singapore 829913.

What the Punggol Digital District career fair offers

e2i, NTUCâ??s Employment and Employability Institute, describes the Career Launch as a way to explore opportunities in tech and beyond. Its listing shows opening hours of 10am to 7pm. Here is how the three days break down:

- 11 December: career fair with hiring employers from Punggol Digital District and the North-East, across tech and non-tech roles.
- 12 December: the AiSP Cybersecurity Career Fair at SITâ??s Campus Heart, 10am to 6pm.
- 13 December: a career talk or workshop on navigating the changing world of work. e2i lists it as â??YOU: The Human Advantage in an AI-Powered Workplaceâ?• at Nexus.

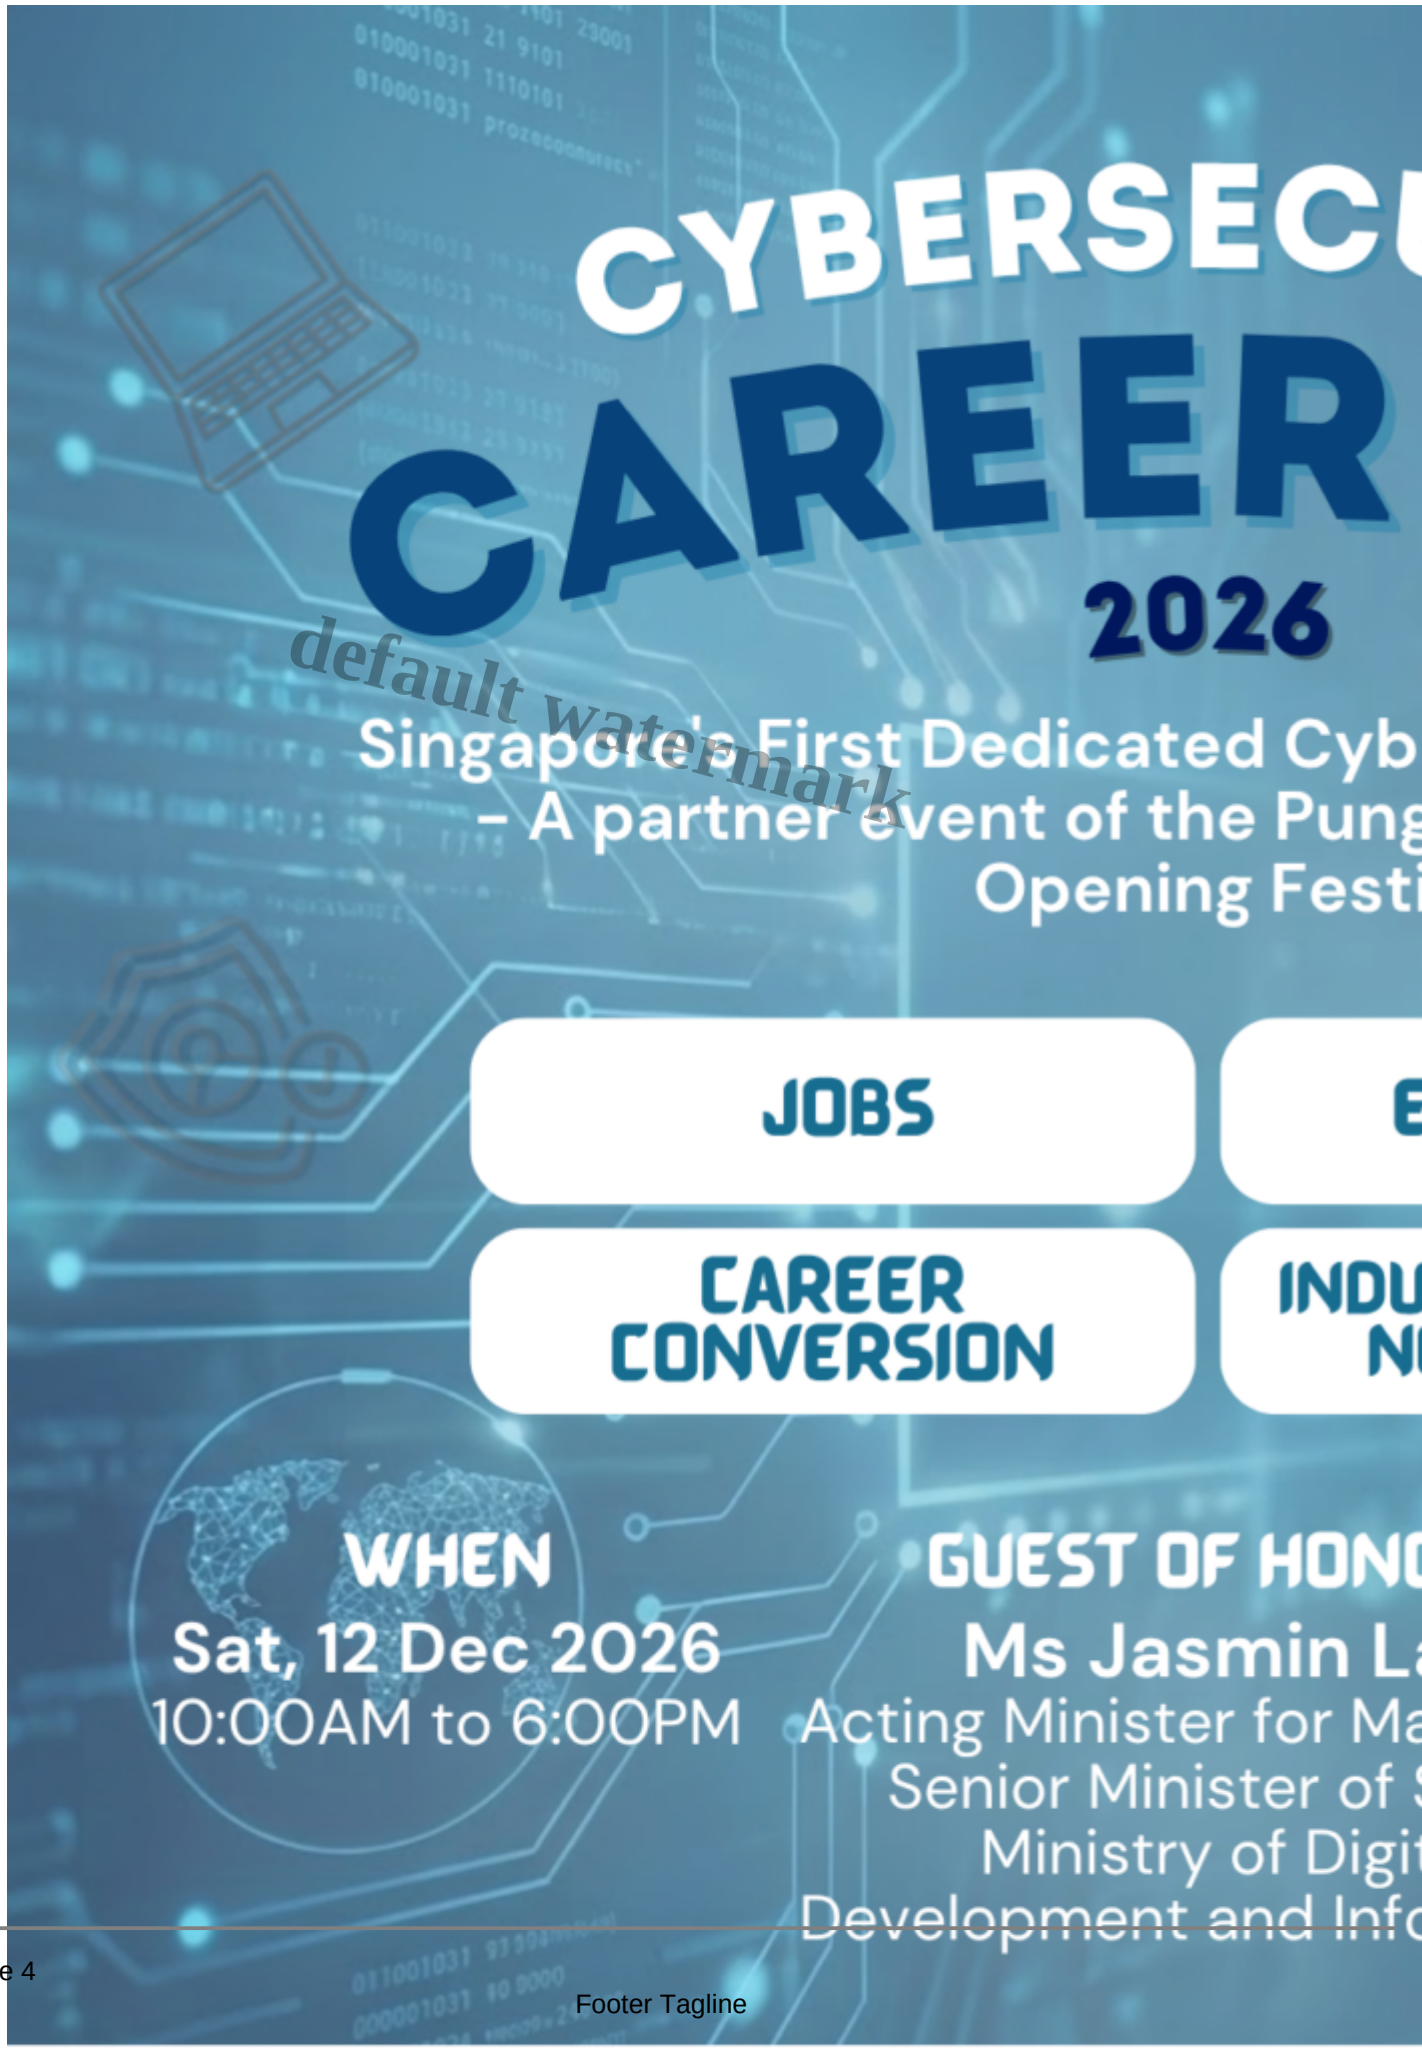

You can also drop by e2iâ??s space in the Work with Tech zone from 11 to 13 December without registering. There you can speak to e2i career coaches for career advice and job matching, try the NTUC AI Career Coach and Cart-A-Job tools, and join the Career Sandwich Cart activity.

How to register for the career fair

e2i says its career fairs have free entry for eligible jobseekers. On-site registration is required, but pre-registering online gets you fast-lane entry, which is handy if you do not fancy queuing on a Friday. Registration for the 11 December fair and the 13 December talk is through the links on e2iâ??s Career Launch page.

The listing does not say how many employers or vacancies will be there, so I would not promise anyone a specific number. Instead, go in with a short list of the types of roles you want, a printed rÃ©sumÃ© or two, and a phone with your LinkedIn or MyCareersFuture profile ready.

The cybersecurity career fair on 12 December

The AiSP Cybersecurity Career Fair 2026 is billed as Singaporeâ??s first dedicated cybersecurity career fair. It runs on Saturday 12 December from 10am to 6pm at SIT Punggol Campus, Campus Heart, Block W1, Level 1, 1 Punggol Coast Road. The poster says entry is free but registration is required, and sign-ups are through Eventbrite. The guest of honour is Ms Jasmin Lau, Acting Minister for Manpower.

It is organised by the Association of Information Security Professionals (AiSP) and SIT, and sponsored by the Cyber Security Agency of Singapore (CSA) and the CyberSG TIG Collaboration Centre. The fair has four parts:

1. Jobs Zone: internships and full-time roles, with employers including GovTech, DSO National Laboratories, CSA and PCS Security.
2. Career Conversion Zone: programmes for professionals switching into cybersecurity, including Lifelong Learning Singapore and Red Alpha Cybersecurity.
3. Education Zone: courses and certifications from SIT, Republic Polytechnic and other partners.
4. Industry talks and networking: sharing sessions and booth demonstrations.

It is pitched at students and fresh graduates, mid-career professionals exploring cybersecurity, and practitioners wanting to move up.

Getting there

The easiest way is the North-East Line to Punggol Coast (NE18), where Exits 1 and 2 are within the district. If you take the Punggol LRT, alight at Teck Lee (PW2) and use Exit B. Buses 104, 117, 117M, 34, 34A and 44 stop at Punggol Coast Interchange, while buses 84G and 84W stop near the station and SIT Punggol.

Driving is possible, with carpark charges of S$2.73 per entry on Saturdays and Sundays, according to the districtâ??s website. The taxi and private-hire drop-off point is at 90 Punggol Way.

Make the most of your weekend

If you are 40 or older and thinking about retraining, read up on the SkillsFuture Mid-Career Training Allowance, which widens on 1 December. Our earlier roundup of November career fairs shows how many walk-in sessions are running. And for context on the job market, here is where MOMâ??s 3Q 2026 labour market figures stand. The agencies behind these schemes are also changing, as we explained in our guide to the WSG and SSG merger.
