

FairPrice: Seara Chicken Legs 2kg at $8.75, Until 1 September

Description

A 2kg pack of Seara boneless chicken legs is $8.75 until 1 September 2026, against a usual $11.70. That is $2.95 off, or 25 per cent, on FairPrice's promotions page. The same list puts Sadia boneless leg meat (2kg) at $8.95 against $12.18. Both clocks stop on 1 September. These are the prices FairPrice is showing for delivery. Check the till if you are in a store.

This is a price list, not a shop-floor report. If you were not buying chicken anyway, it is not a saving.

The FairPrice Lines That Survive The Terms

Grade the freezer first. Seara at $8.75 against $11.70 is a real discount. Twenty-five per cent on a 2kg pack is not a rounding error. Sadia at $8.95 against $12.18 is 27 per cent, or $3.23. Same window, same 2kg job. Pick one SKU. You do not need both.

Fresh blueberries (125g) are $5.95 for two against two packs at $3.95, which is $7.90. That is $1.95, or 25 per cent, until 2 September. Hokto bunashimeiji or white shimeji are any three for $3.80 against three at $1.70, which is $5.10. That is $1.30, or 25 per cent, in the same window.

Carton drinks are smaller. Pokka green tea (24 x 250ml) is $11.90 against $14.40, 17 per cent, until 1 September. Milo chocolate malt UHT (24 x 200ml) is $16.95 against $19.00, 11 per cent, until 1 September.

Then the thin ones. France Legend apples (700g) are $5.90 against $6.90. That is $1, or 14 per cent, until 2 September. Sadia skinless chicken breast (1kg) is $7.95 against $8.31, which is 36 cents. Thin.

Two lines are not discounts. FairPrice pure drinking water (12 x 1.5L) is $6.50 against $6.55. Ocean Fresh Delite frozen salmon portion (500g) is $20.95 against $21.34. Five cents and 39 cents are noise. Skip both.

What The Clock Actually Is

FairPrice's own timestamps on these delivery offers run from 27 August 2026. The chicken, Milo and Pokka lines end on 1 September. The blueberries, apples and shimeji run to 2 September. Pasar carrots at two for $1.80 look cheap until you do the unit: 90 cents against a 95-cent usual. That is 5 per cent, and that offer is dated through 24 September, so it is not this week's reason to shop.

Wait if the cart would only exist because of the promotions page. Skip the water and the salmon. Take the 2kg legs only if chicken was already on the list.

The other supermarket clock this weekend is the Sheng Siong 4 Days Special, which ends 30 August. Last week's FairPrice Payday Week roundup is closed. This is the next price list, not an extension of that one.
