

Fat Kids Are Harder To Kidnap returns for an 18th year at Wild Rice @ Funan from 16 October, from S$35

Description

How Drama's sketch show Fat Kids Are Harder To Kidnap returns for its 18th year on Friday 16 October at Wild Rice @ Funan, with 31 short plays packed into an hour. Tickets on BookMyShow start at S$35, and the run ends on 25 October.

How Drama's sketch show plays Wild Rice @ Funan on 16 to 18 and 23 to 25 October.
Photo: How Drama

How the show works

The audience decides the running order, calling out which play comes next from their seats, and the company warns that shouting will be required. The 2026 edition takes on the World Cup's biggest moments, the high-stakes drama in the Strait of Hormuz and the BTS comeback.

The format has toured Paris, Washington DC and Oslo. It was nominated for Best in Theatre at the Sydney Fringe Festival in 2019 and the Melbourne Fringe Festival in 2020.

The company behind it

How Drama was founded in 2007 and makes site-specific and interactive theatre. It keeps Fat Kids ticket prices low on purpose to bring in young audiences, and puts it this way: "If you can watch a movie and buy pop corn, you can watch Fat Kids."

default watermark

HOWDRAMA
PRESENTS

ARE HARDER KIDNAP® 2022

31 plays in an hour, you decide the o

The 2026 edition packs 31 plays into 60 minutes. Photo: How Drama

Dates and tickets

Performances run over two weekends:

- Friday 16 October: 7.30pm
- Saturday 17 and Sunday 18 October: 3pm and 7.30pm
- Friday 23 October: 7.30pm
- Saturday 24 and Sunday 25 October: 3pm and 7.30pm

A booking fee of S$3 applies to each ticket priced between S$20.01 and S$40, and tickets cannot be refunded or exchanged. The show carries an Advisory 16 rating and the SG Culture Pass mark.

Each performance lasts 60 minutes with no interval. Everyone aged three and above needs a ticket, children must come with an adult, and latecomers are let in only at a suitable moment in the show.

Date Created

14/10/2026

Author

priya

default watermark