If youâ??re a fan of Straits heritage cooking, Racines at Sofitel Singapore City Centre has just the thing: Feast of the Straits, a new a la carte buffet dinner that lets you tuck into a spread of beloved Peranakan, Hainanese, and Malay classics at your own pace â?? and go back for seconds (and thirds).

Part of Racinesâ?? recently launched Home: Flavours of the Heart menu concept, Feast of the Straits is an all-you-can-enjoy 90-minute dinner experience built around the comforting, layered flavours of Singaporeâ??s multicultural culinary heritage. Think wok-fried noodles rich with prawn essence, tangy spice-laden curries, and time-honoured dishes shaped by generations of culinary exchange across Penang, Malaysia, South China, and Singapore.

Whatâ??s on the Table

The menu is a roll call of classics: Singapore Style Hokkien Noodles, Crispy Tofu Omelette â??Tahu Telurâ??, Nyonya Assam Curry Snapper, Angus Beef Cheek Rendang, Racines Ngoh Hiang, and Hainanese Style Chicken Rice. Each dish is crafted to be deeply familiar yet thoughtfully executed â?? the kind of food that makes you linger at the table.
