Forest Run @ Sentosa is a new running race on 24 and 25 April 2027, mostly on park connectors with a short stretch of trail,, starting and finishing at Palawan Green, with early-bird entries from S$65 until 31 December 2026. Organiser King Trail Events Pte Ltd, which has the race on Sentosaâ??s events calendar, offers a 7km, a 14km and a 21km, and the route takes in Fort Siloso and the Coastal Trail.

One loop, three distances

Everything is built on a single 7km loop: 6.4km of park connectors and 600m of trail. The organiser describes it as a roller coaster of a route.

- 7km, one loop: Saturday 24 April, flag-off 7.30am, cut-off two hours
- 14km, two loops: Saturday 24 April, flag-off 8.15am, cut-off three hours
- 21km, three loops: Sunday 25 April, flag-off 7.30am, cut-off five hours

Treat those start times as provisional. Sentosaâ??s own listing gives 7am, 8.30am and 7am, and both say the timings may change.

Those cut-offs are generous. Two hours for 7km works out at walking pace, and the 21km allows five. Starts go in staggered waves of 400 runners, three minutes apart. Waves 1 and 2 are for fast and competitive runners, 3 to 5 for intermediate and recreational runners, and 6 and 7 for slower runners and walkers.

What it costs

Early-bird prices run from 15 October to 31 December 2026. Normal prices apply from 1 January to 22 April 2027.

- 7km: S$65 early bird, S$75 normal

- 14km: S$75 early bird, S$85 normal
- 21km: S$85 early bird, S$95 normal
- 7km on Saturday plus 21km on Sunday: S$145 early bird, S$165 normal
- 14km on Saturday plus 21km on Sunday: S$155 early bird, S$175 normal

Signing up before the year ends saves S$10 on any single distance and S$20 on either weekend double. The double itself is S$5 cheaper than buying its two races separately, at both price tiers.

Who can enter

Every category is open to runners aged 18 and above. Any healthy and reasonably trained runner can enter, and there is no qualifying time. Pacers and other outside help are not allowed on course, and only runners who finish inside the cut-off receive a finisherâ??s medal.

Every entry includes an event tee, a finisher medal, a drawstring bag, a race bib, race timing and complimentary electrolyte hydration. The 14km adds a sports towel and the 21km a visor cap.

Before you pay

Entries are non-refundable. There is no refund if you decide not to run, and none if the race is cancelled for reasons beyond the organiserâ??s control, such as bad weather. The organiser can also change the route without notice. Race pack collection is on 17 and 18 April 2027, with the venue still to be announced.

For a first race of this kind, the 7km is the honest starting point: one lap, mostly park connector, with two hours to finish it. Runners who already handle a hilly 10km can look at the 14km, and the Saturday-Sunday double is for anyone who wants a proper weekend of it on the island.
