

A Four Heavenly Kings Tribute Brings Coffee Morning To Esplanade On 15 June

Description

A Four Heavenly Kings Tribute is the next Coffee Morning & Afternoon Tea pick for Cantopop listeners.

The programme takes place at Esplanade Concert Hall on Monday, 15 June 2026, and centres songs associated with Jacky Cheung, Andy Lau, Aaron Kwok and Leon Lai.

Why This Is A Different Concert Slot

Coffee Morning & Afternoon Tea shows are built for weekday daytime audiences, so they work well for retirees, flexible workers and fans who prefer an earlier concert outing.

The tribute framing also means the draw is familiarity. Instead of chasing a new album cycle, the programme gives audiences a compact way to revisit Cantopop standards tied to the four icons.

- Date: 15 June 2026, Monday.
- Venue: Esplanade Concert Hall.
- Series: Coffee Morning & Afternoon Tea.
- Music focus: songs associated with the Four Heavenly Kings era.

Who Should Go

This is best for listeners who know the Cantopop catalogue and want a communal singalong-adjacent atmosphere without a late-night concert crowd.

It is also an easy pick for families bringing older parents, especially if weekday timing is more comfortable than a Saturday arena show.

Planning Notes

Use public transport if possible, and plan lunch around Esplanade or CityLink after the show. If you are booking for older relatives, confirm seat access and lift routes in advance.

The weekday format is the main advantage here. It avoids the late-night concert rush and gives fans a more comfortable way to enjoy familiar songs in the Concert Hall setting.

Readers comparing more music listings can check the Little Big Red Dot entertainment archive.

Location Notes

- Esplanade Concert Hall

Date Created

14/06/2026

Author

priya

default watermark