

Gateway Kids Club June Puts Fathers And Everyday Heroes In The Spotlight

Description

Gateway Kids Club's June programme is built around Heroes Among Us, a theme that celebrates fathers, father figures and everyday courage. The sessions are listed for 6 and 27 June 2026 at Gateway Theatre's Dance Studio.

The programme is aimed at children aged 3 to 7, which puts it in a useful lane for preschoolers and lower-primary children who need short, structured activities rather than long stage productions.

What Children Can Expect

Gateway describes the June sessions as action-filled adventures with stories and songs. That mix is important for the target age group: children can sit for short storytelling blocks, then reset through music and movement.

Because the theme lands near Father's Day season, it can also work as a gentle outing for dads, grandfathers, uncles or other caregivers. The point is not only a craft or story; it is giving children language for the adults who show up for them.

- Dates: 6 and 27 June 2026.
- Venue: Gateway Theatre Dance Studio.
- Recommended age: 3 to 7 years old.
- Registration opens two weeks before each storytelling session.

Planning Notes

Treat registration timing as part of the plan. Small children's programmes can fill quickly, especially when they sit on a Saturday and have a clear seasonal theme.

Read the Gateway Kids Club listing and the SISTIC ticket page before making weekend plans. More family ideas sit under our Parenting & Family section.

- Good for: preschoolers, early readers and caregiver-child outings.
- Arrive early enough for toilet breaks before the session.
- Use the theme to make a simple Father's Day card or thank-you note after the visit.
