

HealthHub Maintenance From 12 To 15 June: What Patients Should Do First

Description

default watermark

HealthHub users should settle time-sensitive healthcare admin before the weekend maintenance window. The notice on HealthHub states that scheduled maintenance runs from Friday, 12 June 2026, 10.30pm to Monday, 15 June 2026, 6am.

For households managing elderly parents or childrenâ??s appointments, the key detail is that health records, Healthier SG and several eServices for care recipients and children are affected. This sits squarely in the practical side of Singapore health coverage.

What Is Affected

HealthHub lists health records, Healthier SG and eServices for care recipients and children as affected during the maintenance window. That means families who need to review records, check Healthier SG items or manage linked dependants should handle the task before 10.30pm on Friday if it cannot wait until Monday morning.

Appointment Booking Notes

The notice states that self-appointment booking remains available. Appointment booking for care recipients and children resumes on Monday, 15 June 2026, at 6am, including same-day appointments. If you normally book for someone else, this is the part to remember.

Before The Window Starts

- Download or note records you expect to need over the weekend.
- Complete Healthier SG checks that involve linked profiles before Friday night.
- Use self-appointment booking if the appointment is for your own profile.
- For care recipients or children, wait until 6am on Monday for booking functions to resume.

Who Should Act Before Friday Night

The highest-priority users are caregivers, parents and anyone who expects to need records for a weekend clinic visit. If you manage multiple profiles, check the information you may need before the maintenance window starts instead of assuming linked services will be available during Saturday or Sunday. The notice also matters for people enrolled in Healthier SG because weekend app checks can become awkward when records and related services are temporarily unavailable.

Date Created
11/06/2026
Author
jadeyeo

default watermark