The Home Planner Expo 2026 runs from 5 to 13 December at Singapore Expo, with free entry and furniture, mattress and renovation brands advertising up to 70% off. If you just collected your BTO keys, or your block is queued for upgrading works, this is one of the last big one-stop trips of the year. The organiser, My Home International, has also lined up free talks on new home defects and Chinese zodiac forecasts for 2027.

Home Planner Expo 2026: dates, venue and how to get there

- Dates: 5 to 13 December 2026, daily from 11am to 9pm.
- Venue: Singapore Expo, Hall 6A. The organiserâ??s page header says Hall 6B in one place, so check the signs on arrival.
- Entry: free.
- MRT: Expo station, on the East-West Line (CG1) and Downtown Line (DT35).
- Bus: services 12, 20, 24, 35 and 38 stop near Singapore Expo, according to the organiser.
- Weekday lunch: a free shuttle runs between Changi Business Park and Expo from 11.30am to 2pm, roughly every 15 minutes.

Drivers can use Carparks A and H, the nearest to Hall 6. The organiser also invites visitors to register for a free gift on its website before heading down. It does not state what the gift is, so treat it as a bonus and not the reason to go.

What you can shop for at the fair

The exhibitor list reads like a renovation to-do list. Furniture and mattress names include Slumberland, King Koil, Vono, Englander and Gemini Furniture, with Ho Ho and Spazio among others. Wardrobe and interior design firms such as Amare La Casa and WoodCraft Interior Design are on it too.

For the practical bits, look at Lockin and KLE-Smart for digital locks, Coway and Hydroflux for water systems, and Daikin and Mitsubishi for air-conditioning. The list is long, so work out your must-haves before you go. Otherwise it is very easy to walk out with a recliner you never planned for.

The organiser says there are â??exclusive expo-only dealsâ?• and a Wow Deals section, but it has not published item-by-item prices yet. Take â??up to 70% offâ?• as a ceiling on selected items, not a promise across every booth.

Free talks worth planning your day around

Two free talks are listed on the Home Planner Expo 2026 programme.

- New Home Defects Inspection, on Sundays 6 and 13 December at 4pm, by Tan Wee Kwang, founder of Absolute Inspection.
- 2027 Chinese Zodiac and Feng Shui Talk, with Yi Quan in English on Saturday 5 December at 2pm, and Master Ang in Chinese on Sunday 13 December at 2pm.

The defects talk is the one for new BTO owners. You normally have a short window after key collection to spot defects, so knowing what to check before the renovation starts saves arguments with contractors later. Registration links are on the organiserâ??s site, so look there in case seats need to be reserved.

Tips before you go

Bring your floor plan. The organiser says its interior designers will give advice if you show up with one. Measure your living room, bedroom and doorways too, because a sofa that looks perfect in a hall is a different story in a 3-room flat.

- Set a total budget per category, then compare at least two booths before paying a deposit.
- Ask about delivery timing against your renovation schedule, especially if the flat is not ready yet.
- Get warranty terms and the cancellation policy in writing.
- Go on a weekday afternoon if you can, since weekends at Expo get crowded.

Still planning the bigger picture? Our guide to HDB renovation permit rules and working hours explains when noisy works are allowed. For comparison on design packages, see the IKEA home design service for a 2-room Flexi flat.

Details are from the organiser and are subject to change without notice, so check the Home Planner website before you travel down.
