The Kallang event page includes the Singapore Indoor Stadium seating plan for the i-dle concert.

Syncopation is i-dleâ??s fourth global tour, following JUST ME ( )I-DLE, I am FREE-TY and iDOL. The Singapore stop is organised by iMe Singapore and sits after Seoul, Taipei, Bangkok, Melbourne and Sydney on the announced Asia-Pacific run.

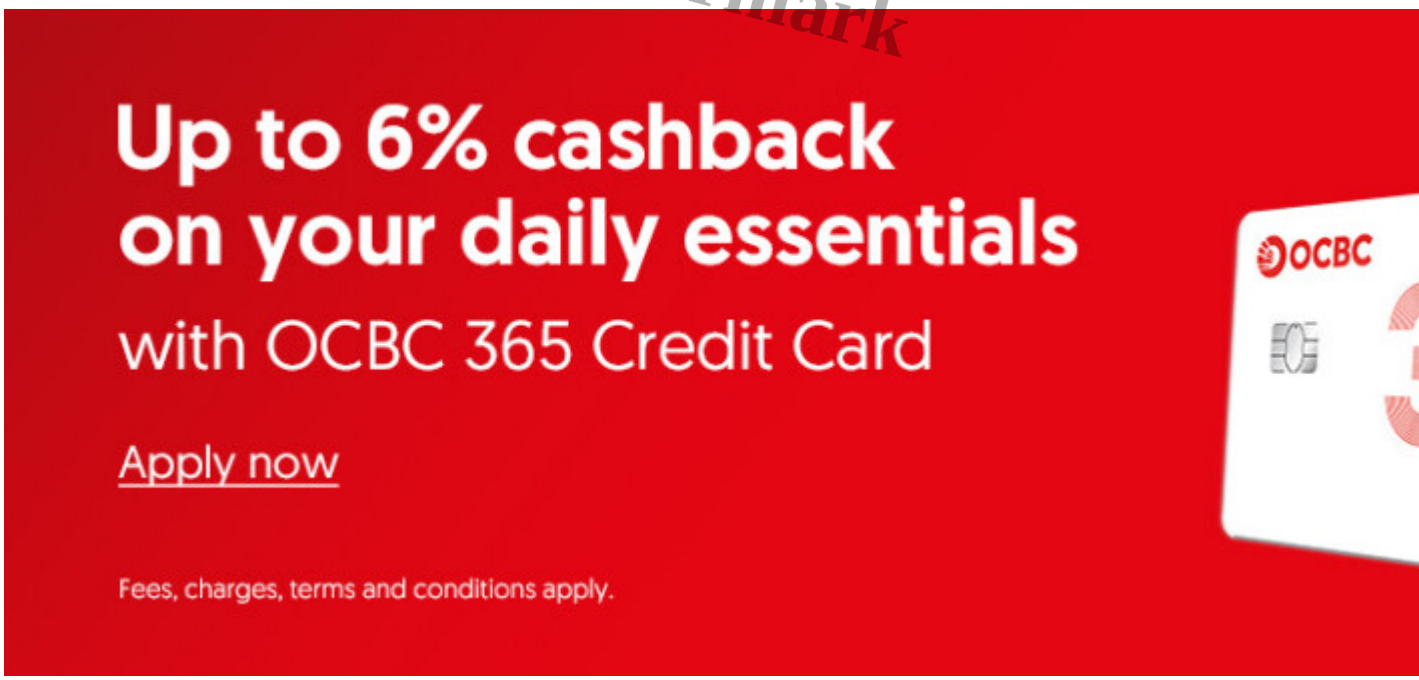

For fans, that means the Singapore show is not a one-off appearance. It is part of a full tour cycle, so the staging, setlist expectations and fan demand should be closer to a major K-pop tour than a standalone showcase.

Ticket And Entry Notes

The Berriz official fanclub Neverland presale was on 19 March, followed by general sale from 20 March, with a ticket purchase limit of four for general sale. Ticketmaster has the event under 13 June 2026 at 5pm.

Prices are listed from S$188 to S$348. Before buying resale tickets, fans should verify the official ticketing channel and avoid treating screenshots or social listings as proof of a valid ticket.

Singapore Indoor Stadium is the venue for the 13 June i-dle concert.

Venue Rules To Watch

Singapore Indoor Stadium events usually move quickly once doors open, and doors open at 3.30pm. Security checks apply, and the prohibited-items list includes outside food and drinks, oversized bags, noise makers, offensive banners, non-collapsible umbrellas, chairs, tablets, laptops, gifts and flowers.

Fan boards are also capped at A3 size on the event page. That is a practical detail to check before preparing concert-day items because oversized fan support can become a gate problem rather than a seat problem.

How To Plan The Day

A 5pm show changes the rhythm of the day. Fans should plan lunch, merchandise timing and travel before the late-afternoon crowd hits Stadium MRT, especially if they are meeting friends or collecting items.

Readers who follow major venue shows can also compare the Kallang logistics with LBRDâ??s My Chemical Romance Singapore update, which uses the same Singapore Indoor Stadium setting later in 2026.
