

i-dle Syncopation Singapore Concert: What Fans Should Know

Description

i-dle's 2026 world tour Syncopation stops at Singapore Indoor Stadium on 13 June 2026 at 5pm. The Kallang listing names iMe Singapore as organiser and places Singapore after Sydney and before later Asia dates.

Ticket prices are listed from S$188 to S$348. For fans, the early 5pm start means planning looks different from a typical 8pm concert: meals, merchandise queues and transport should all be pulled earlier.

Ticketing Notes

The venue listing shows VIP at S$348, followed by seated categories at S$318, S$288, S$258, S$218 and S$188, with booking fees added. Doors are listed to open at 3.30pm, which gives fans a clear window for security, merchandise and finding seats.

Ticket limits matter for group planning. The Kallang page lists a fanclub presale limit of two tickets and a general-sale limit of four tickets. If you are buying for friends, agree on seat category and payment before the sale opens.

- Date: 13 June 2026.
- Time: 5pm.
- Venue: Singapore Indoor Stadium.
- Listed price range: S$188 to S$348 before booking fees.

Fan Planning

K-pop concert days can be long even when the show starts early. Bring a power bank, eat before entering the precinct and set a post-show meeting point if the group splits for merchandise or photos.

The 5pm timing is useful for younger fans because the show should end earlier than a late-night concert, but it also compresses the afternoon. Anyone collecting tickets, buying merchandise or meeting friends should plan backwards from the 3.30pm door time rather than from the concert start.

- Arrive earlier if collecting tickets or buying merchandise.
- Use Stadium MRT for the simplest exit plan.
- Parents accompanying younger fans should agree on a meeting point before doors open.
