Singaporeâ??s automotive scene just got a significant boost. JAECOO, the adventure-focused SUV sub-brand under Chery Automobile Group, officially launched two new models in Singapore on 5 May 2026: the JAECOO J5 BEV and the JAECOO J8 Flagship Super Hybrid, through local distributor Vertex Automobile Pte Ltd.

JAECOO J5 BEV: A Pure Electric SUV

The JAECOO J5 BEV brings JAECOOâ??s first battery-electric offering to the Singapore market. Compact yet purposeful in its stance, the J5 BEV reflects JAECOOâ??s outdoor-adventure design language with bold lines, a raised ride height and rugged styling cues that stand apart from the typical urban EV formula.

As a Battery Electric Vehicle (BEV), the J5 offers zero tailpipe emissions with the versatility of an SUV body, making it a practical option for drivers who want an EV with a more distinctive, adventurous character.

JAECOO J8 Flagship Super Hybrid: Premium and Powerful

Sitting above the J5 in the lineup, the JAECOO J8 Flagship Super Hybrid is the brandâ??s premium SUV offering. The â??Flagship Super Hybridâ?• designation points to a sophisticated hybrid powertrain that combines a petrol engine with an electric motor, delivering the range flexibility of a hybrid with the performance expected from a flagship model.

The J8â??s larger proportions and flagship positioning make it a direct competitor in the premium hybrid SUV segment, targeting buyers who want the presence of a full-sized SUV with the efficiency advantages of an electrified drivetrain.

The JAECOO Brand

JAECOO was established as a sub-brand of Chery Automobile, one of Chinaâ??s largest independent carmakers, with a specific focus on outdoor and adventure-oriented SUVs. The brand is positioned alongside OMODA, Cheryâ??s urban-lifestyle SUV brand, with both distributed in Singapore by Vertex Automobile Pte Ltd.

For Singapore buyers, the J5 BEV and J8 Flagship Super Hybrid give the brand two different electrified entries: a compact pure-electric SUV for drivers looking at zero-emission daily use, and a larger flagship hybrid SUV for those who still want long-distance flexibility.
