

Jujutsu Kaisen in Concert plays Esplanade Theatre twice on Halloween, from S$58

Description

Jujutsu Kaisen in Concert plays two shows at the Esplanade Theatre on Saturday 31 October 2026, at 3pm and 8pm, with tickets from S$58 to S$199. Esplanade, which hosts the show, bills it as the anime's scenes on the big screen with a live band on stage.

The date falls on Halloween night.

What the concert is

The production pairs visuals from the series on the big screen with a hybrid ensemble of nine to 12 musicians mixing classical and modern instruments. The music follows the anime's best-known moments, from Yuji's first encounter with Sukuna to the battles that tore through Tokyo, and draws on all three seasons.

The tour closes each show with an encore written only for this run, so fans who know the soundtrack by heart still get something new.

The story on screen follows a world where curses roam unseen and sorcerers stand between chaos and humanity.

Running time and age advisory

Each show lasts 2 hours 20 minutes, including one 20-minute interval. Admission is for ages six and above, and the advisory is 16. The programme is presented in English and Japanese.

Tickets

Seats come in seven tiers: VIP and Categories 1 to 6. VIP is S$199 and the cheapest seats start at S$58. Every attendee needs a ticket, including infants and children.

House rules at the Theatre

Esplanade generally bars photography and video recording during indoor performances unless the promoter or artist allows it. Food and drinks are generally not permitted inside the venue. If a show is cancelled, the organiser notifies ticket buyers by email with refund details; for a postponed show with a known new date, refunds are optional.
