

LANY Soft World Tour Singapore 2026: Date And Indoor Stadium Guide

Description

The one-night Singapore stop is set for 4 November 2026 at Singapore Indoor Stadium.

The Los Angeles pop band is returning with music from its latest chapter alongside familiar songs such as ILYSB, Malibu Nights and Thru These Tears, making this a catalogue-spanning arena date rather than a narrowly themed album show.

The Singapore Date At A Glance

The concert is scheduled for Wednesday, 4 November 2026 at Singapore Indoor Stadium. The official listing describes it as a one-night-only stop, so fans should build their Kallang plans around that single date rather than expecting a second show.

The venue sits within the Singapore Sports Hub precinct. Stadium MRT is the closest rail stop, while Kallang MRT gives a longer walking alternative when the immediate station becomes crowded after a major concert.

- Date: 4 November 2026.
- Venue: Singapore Indoor Stadium.
- Format: one-night Singapore stop on the Soft World Tour.

What The Set May Feel Like

LANY's official event description points to both the band's established catalogue and new material. That suggests the emotional sing-alongs associated with Malibu Nights can sit beside the softer, evolving sound of the current era.

Fans who have not followed every recent release can still expect recognisable entry points. A quick playlist built around the three named global hits and the latest album is a sensible refresher without trying to predict the running order.

- Expect songs from several stages of LANY's catalogue.
- The production is described as intimate in tone but built for an arena.

How To Plan The Night

Allow extra time for bag checks, ticket scanning and the walk from the station. Indoor Stadium events can release into the same Kallang paths at once, so deciding on a post-show meeting point before entering is useful for groups.

Readers tracking other major dates can browse Little Big Red Dot's Entertainment guides for more Singapore concert planning.

- Use public transport where possible.
- Save the mobile ticket before joining the entrance queue.
- Check the ticket for the assigned gate and seat section.
