The Love Bonito 11.11 sale is already live, and it is bigger than the usual mid-season markdown: up to 70% off sale items, plus an extra 15% to 25% off your whole cart depending on how much you spend. The public sale opened on 3 November 2026, the extra S$5 app voucher runs until 15 November 2026, and some pants have dropped to S$10. Here is how the tiers work, and how not to get caught out by the fine print.

Love Bonito 11.11 sale: the discount tiers

The headline says up to 70% off plus an extra 25%, but that top extra discount is for GOLD members only. Everyone else gets a spend-based tier, applied automatically online at checkout, and also honoured at Love, Bonito stores in Singapore.

- 15% off with a minimum spend of S$90
- 20% off with a minimum spend of S$115
- 25% off with a minimum spend of S$115, for GOLD members only

The extra discount applies to full-priced and markdown items, so it stacks on top of the red-tag prices. You can use it as many times as you like during the promotion period. Gift cards and anything carrying a sale exclusion tag are left out.

What the sale prices look like

The sale section had 831 products when we checked on 09 November 2026, and new markdowns were added this week. A few of the prices on the sale page, before the extra tier discount:

- Lynn Tailored Peg Leg Chino Pants: S$10, down from S$55
- Lena Pintuck Tailored Pants: S$10, down from S$55
- Vegan Leather Peg Leg Trousers: S$10, down from S$69
- Lyocell Panelled Side Seams Boxy Top: S$25, down from S$45
- Leggy Jules Tailored Crepe Palazzo Pants (regular and petite): S$50, down from S$79

Those S$10 pants are the real lobang, but some sale styles are marked as selected colours only, so your preferred shade may still be at full price. Sizes in the deepest markdowns go fast, which is normal for a sale that started almost a week ago.

Worked example

Say you pick the Leggy Jules palazzo at S$50, the boxy top at S$25 and two pairs of S$10 chinos. That is S$95, which clears the S$90 mark, so 15% comes off and you pay about S$80.75. Add one more S$25 top and you reach S$120, which unlocks 20% off and brings the cart to S$96.

If you are close to S$115, it is usually worth topping up with a basic you would buy anyway. Just do the maths before adding things you do not need.

The extra S$5 app voucher and the Golden Ticket draw

Download the Love, Bonito app and you get an extra S$5 off, which sits in the My Rewards page. It is stackable with the 11.11 tiers, limited to one redemption per customer, and valid until 15 November 2026. In stores, show the code from My Rewards to the cashier.

There is also a Golden Ticket draw for online orders. The rules, as listed by Love, Bonito:

- Online orders placed from 10am on 2 November to 11.59pm on 13 November 2026 qualify
- You need a minimum net spend of S$200 in a single order, after discounts and vouchers
- 11 winners are drawn, one a day from 2 to 12 November
- Each winner gets a physical Golden Ticket worth a S$500 Love, Bonito voucher in their parcel

Fine print to read before you check out

This is the part people skip, then regret. The 11.11 terms say all sales are final, with no returns, exchanges or cancellations, so check sizes against the size guide before paying.

- The extra discount cannot be combined with other discounts or promotions, apart from the S$5 app voucher
- It cannot be claimed after purchase or extended after expiry
- The offer is valid in Singapore only
- Expect longer delivery times because of high order volume

On timing, the Love, Bonito site lists the sale as running to the morning of 16 November 2026, and the app voucher expires on 15 November. Treat 15 November as your real deadline, and do not wait for it if you want common sizes.

Is it worth it?

For workwear basics, yes. The tailored pants at S$10 are cheaper than most fast-fashion basics, and the tier discount on top makes a S$115 haul feel a lot lighter. The no-returns rule is the catch, so this is best for repeat buyers who already know their Love, Bonito size.

Shop the sale on the Love, Bonito sale page, and read the full terms on its ongoing offers page. If you are building a bigger 11.11 list, we have also covered the Nike 11.11 sale with code GAMEON and the Puma 11.11 sale with code EXTRA15.
