About the Exhibition

Afterimage brings together Taniguchi's key works across painting, sculpture, and moving image, offering an intimate survey of a practice that is as meditative as it is exacting. The exhibition explores recurring themes of repetition, time, and labour — ideas central to Taniguchi's meticulous and deeply committed artistic process.

Anchored by her ongoing series of brick paintings — large-scale canvases built through the obsessive, hand-painted repetition of brick-like forms that accumulate into dense, absorbing fields — the show also features a site-specific iteration of her Runaways sculptures crafted from Java plum wood, alongside four video works produced between 2010 and 2026.
