

3 Mooncake Collections in Singapore Worth Ordering Early in 2026

Description

Mid-Autumn Festival falls on 25 September 2026, and this is not every mooncake collection out this year. It is three where the price, the ordering window and a real photograph of the box are all published on the brand's own site, checkable before you commit to a booth queue or a delivery charge.

Ding Mooncake

Ding Mooncake sells hotel-style gift boxes without the hotel address. The 2026 collection runs from Duo 2-piece boxes at $45.90 (Early Bird) to Premium 4-piece boxes at $65.90 (Early Bird), plus a chilled range including Assorted Snow Skin Mooncakes from $68.90 and the bestselling Black Gold Mao Shan Wang Durian Snow Skin, sold 1-for-1 at $129 for two boxes, which works out to $64.50 a box. Building a bundle of two or more boxes unlocks a further 20% off on top of the Early Bird price.

Good for gifting in bulk, since the bundle discount rewards ordering more than one box. Less good if you want to see or taste before buying, since this is delivery or self-collection only, with no hotel lobby counter to sample from.

Crowne Plaza Changi Airport

Crowne Plaza's Lunar Voyages collection is built around a gift box with an interactive lid that tracks the moon's phases and a 24-time-zone world clock, and every box carries a scratch card guaranteeing a prize. The Premium Musang King Durian Snow Skin is listed at $66 on the hotel's own ordering site, checked 25 August 2026, though a food blog quoted $88 for the same item a day earlier. Check the live price before you order rather than trust either figure blind. The Assorted Baked Collection is $86 for a box of four, running from White Lotus Paste with Single Yolk to the new Low Sugar Six-Grain flavour. Early bird savings of 35%+5% apply, and collection or delivery runs from 3 August to 25 September.

Good for anyone travelling through Changi anyway, since self-collection sits inside the airport hotel. Good for durian fans chasing the Musang King option specifically. Less good if you want your box before August, since collection only opens on 3 August.

Singapore Marriott Tang Plaza Hotel

Wan Hao Chinese Restaurant's collection leans into five new flavours this year, including a Da Hong Pao tea mooncake with cranberries and golden raisins at $94 for four pieces, and a Sea Salt Chocolate with Baileys Praline snowskin mooncake at $94 for eight pieces. The Assorted Baked Mooncakes box, also four pieces for $94, is the straightforward pick if you want a spread of classic flavours rather than a themed set. Promo codes at the hotel's own ordering site take a further 15 to 20% off, and Pan Pacific Discovery members get up to 30% off from now to 25 September.

Good for Orchard Road gifting, since the hotel is a short walk from Orchard MRT and the Mid-Autumn booth opens in the lobby from 21 August. Less good if price per piece is what matters: at $94 for four pieces, that is $23.50 each, against $21.50 each for Crowne Plaza's Assorted Baked box and $22.95 each for Ding Mooncake's Duo box.

Ding Mooncake is the cheapest way into a full gift box, Crowne Plaza is the pick for durian and for anyone already at Changi, and Marriott is the one worth the Orchard Road walk-in. None of the three needs a hotel lobby visit to order, only to collect. For a heritage-keepsake angle instead, the Fairmont Singapore collection and the Tablescape lineup are worth the same price-per-piece arithmetic before you order.
