

More than Human exhibition in Singapore: ArtScience Museum from 28 November, tickets from S$19.50

Description

default watermark

The More than Human exhibition in Singapore opens at ArtScience Museum on 28 November 2026, with adult tickets from S$19.50 for residents. Running to 16 May 2027, it brings together more than 140 artworks, objects, immersive installations, new commissions and hands-on experiences about how people live with plants, animals and ecosystems.

This is a touring show from the Design Museum in London, expanded for Singapore with new works and perspectives from across Asia. It is a good one for a rainy school-holiday afternoon, since the galleries are indoors at Marina Bay Sands.

More than Human exhibition tickets and opening hours

The exhibition is in the Basement 2 Galleries at ArtScience Museum, 6 Bayfront Avenue. It is open daily from 9am to 6pm, with last entry at 5pm.

- Singapore residents: adult from S$19.50, concession from S$16.50.
- Tourists: adult from S$22, concession from S$18.
- Sands Lifestyle members get 30 per cent off Adult Standard and Concession Standard tickets for single exhibitions.

The museum says prices start â??fromâ?• those figures, so check the booking page for your date and ticket type before you go.

Source: Design Museum, London

What the show is about

At its centre is one question: what might the future look like if we designed not just for people, but with animals, plants and whole ecosystems in mind? The curators call this approach more-than-human design.

The works range from forests and oceans to gardens and everyday materials. The artists, designers, architects, researchers and communities involved show how creative work can change the way we see nature, and our place in it.

The museum pitches the show at visitors of all ages, with playful, thought-provoking works and hands-on experiences. The idea is to explore how living things are connected, and how care and cooperation can shape a better shared future.

One piece to look out for is Forest Mind by Ursula Biemann, which appeared in the original London presentation.

default watermark

Source: Design Museum, London

Opening weekend and kidsâ?? tours

Opening day is a Saturday, and there is plenty on the museumâ??s programme for the first week.

- 28 November (Saturday): In Relation, an evening opening programme of roving conversations in the gallery with artists, designers and practitioners.
- 28 November and 5 December, 2.30pm to 3.30pm: a kidsâ?? tour where young visitors â??buzz through the galleries as a beeâ?•.
- Selected Tuesdays, 3.30pm: public guided tours led by an Education Specialist. Same-day exhibition ticket is needed, and more details are coming from the museum.

The kidsâ?? tour has only two dates so far, so book early if you have a young group.

Source: Design Museum, London

Other shows at ArtScience Museum right now

If you want to make a day of it, two other programmes sit alongside the main exhibition.

- Sounding Lines by Stijn Demeulenaere, an ArtScience Encounters work about how we have shaped the seabed and how the sea has shaped us. It runs from 6 November 2026 to 24 January 2027.
- Untitled Goose Game, part of the Letâ??s Play series, from 18 December 2026 to 31 March 2027. You explore a human world from the perspective of a chaotic goose.

The exhibition also pairs well with other festive plans. See our guides to the Crazy Christmas Jam at Esplanade and Anime Festival Asia Singapore 2026, or browse things to do this weekend.

Getting to the More than Human exhibition in Singapore

default watermark

ArtScience Museum is part of Marina Bay Sands, and the Bayfront MRT station connects through to it. Tickets are sold online and at Marina Bay Sands box offices. Allow a good one to two hours inside, and go on a weekday morning if you want the galleries quieter.

Last entry is at 5pm, so leave enough time before the museum closes at 6pm. The photos in this article show the Design Museum presentation in London, so the Singapore layout will differ.

Date Created
20/11/2026
Author
priya