

Museum of Ice Cream... Frosty Pinkmas!

Description

This holiday season, Little Big Red Dot was thrilled to preview Frosty Pinkmas at the Museum of Ice Cream (MOIC), running from 1 December 2024 to 20 January 2025.

Having visited earlier this year for Valentine's Day (check out our article here), we couldn't wait to see how MOIC transforms its already-pink paradise into a dazzling winter wonderland.

This pink Christmas tree really looks frosty!

This time round, we didn't spend too much time on the iPads solving the puzzles as we already spend 30 minutes during our previous visit.

Apart from the usual classics, go with the creamy White Peppermint Ice Cream and Oatmilk Maple Cinnamon Ice Cream Sandwich, a refreshing winter classic for Christmas. Of course, you are free to try all flavours if you can. After all, who can say no to unlimited ice cream?

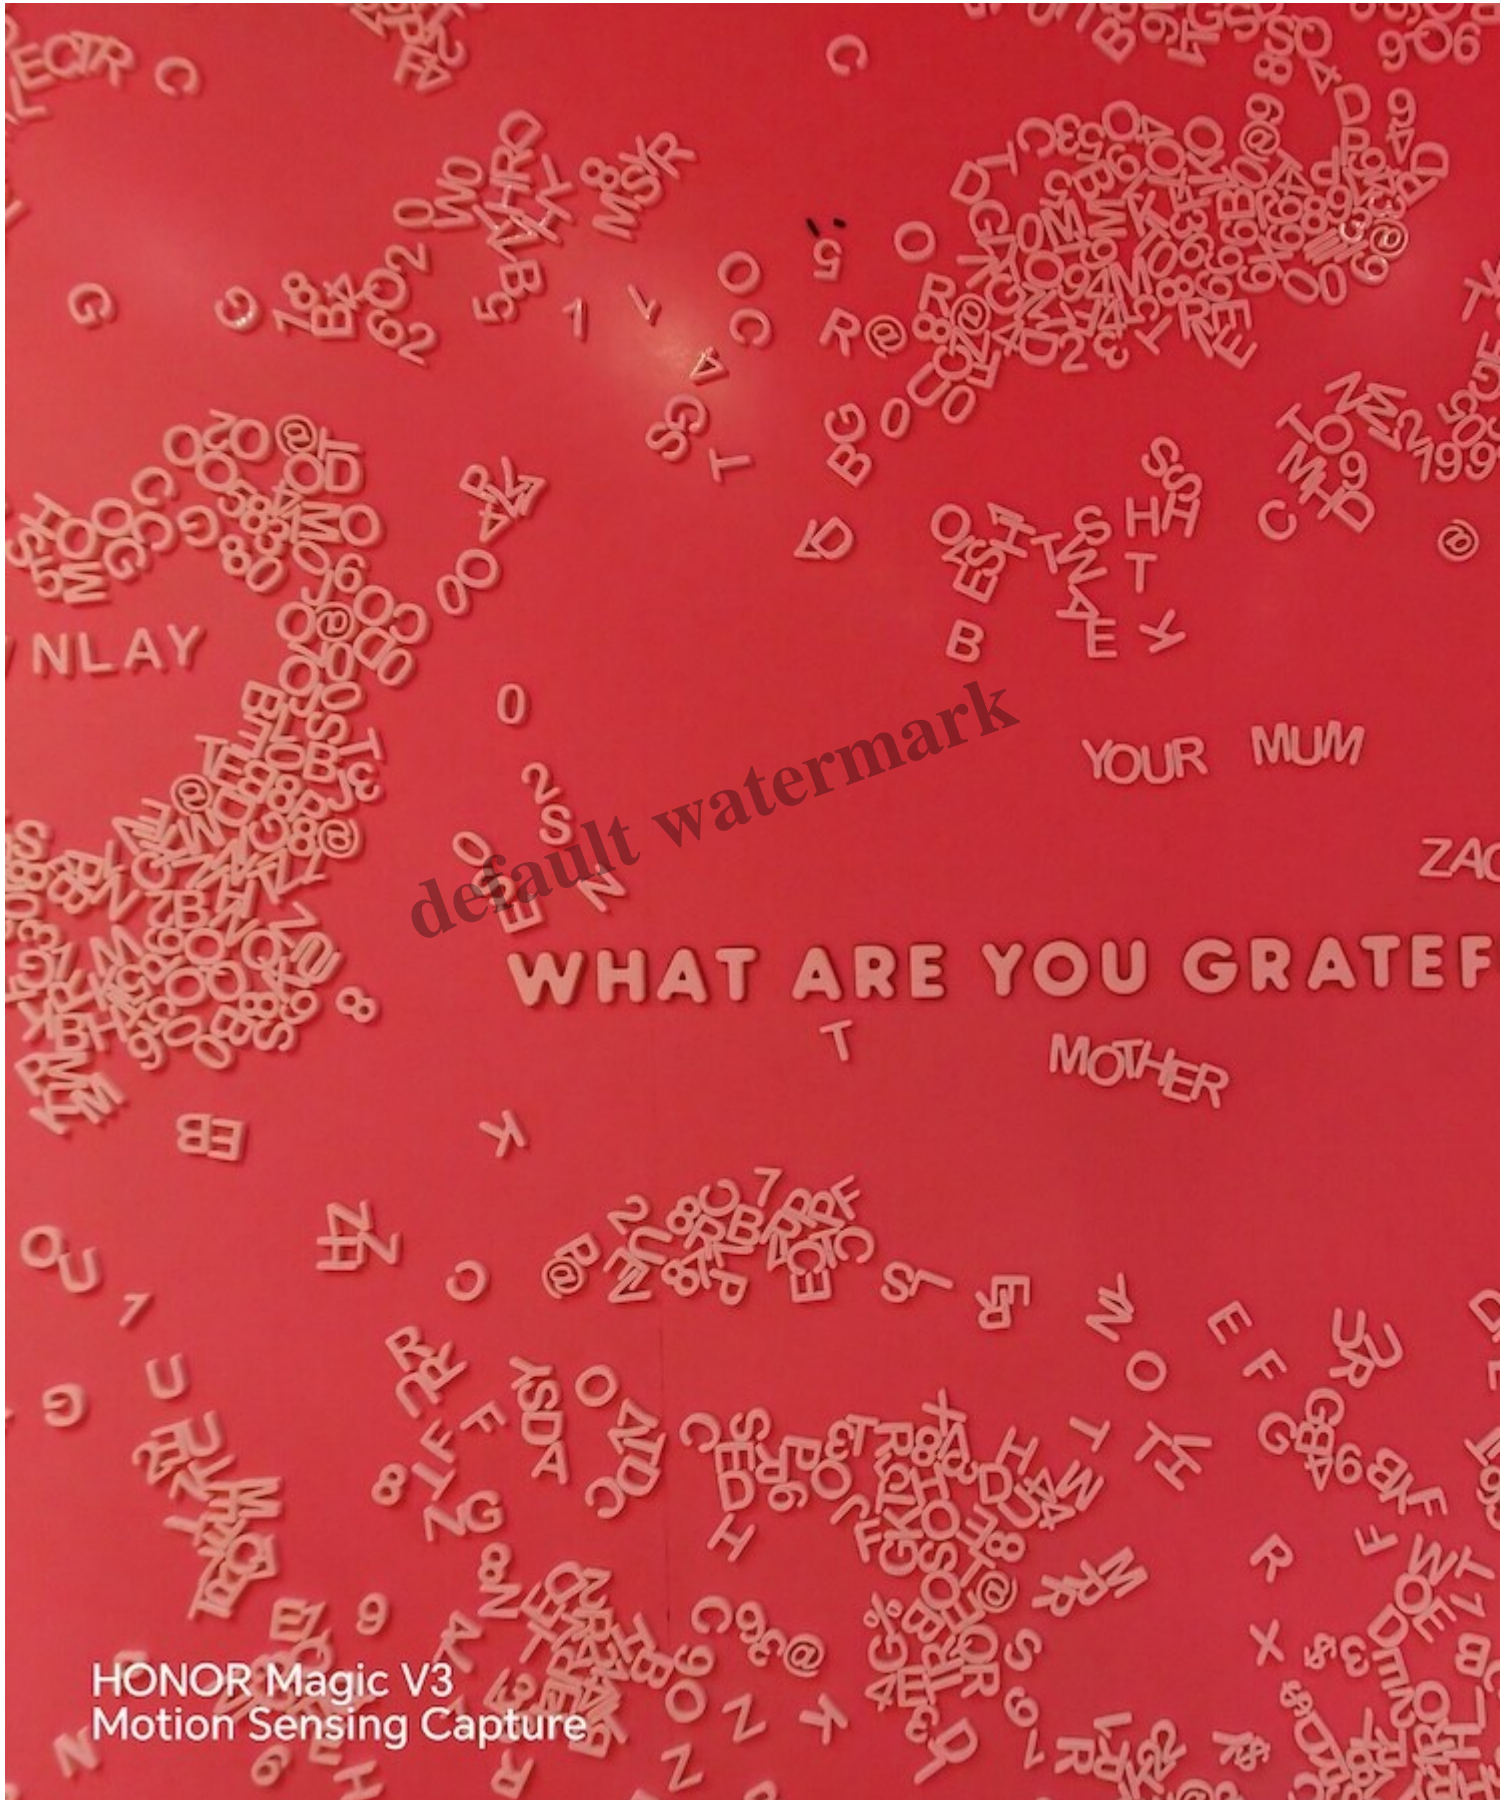

You can also up the festive ante with sips of pure joy – Cherry Picking in the Forest, MOIC's limited edition Sprinkle of Pink and Peppermint Milkshake ($12++).

This was fun. We spend quite some time here just for this photo.

There were other questions like “What are you grateful for?” and “What is your dream?”.

At Scream's Diner, we had cones topped with candy canes and crunchy silver sprinkles that taste as festive as they look.

MOIC isn't just about the treats; it's about creating memories. We took our time exploring interactive spaces, capturing fun photos, and even revisiting some favorite spots from our last visit.

At the Pinkmas Forest, we penned our festive wishes and hung them on glowing pink trees, a heartwarming activity perfect for the holiday spirit.

After that, they treat you with even more ice cream.

Time to head back to the 80s disco night?

For the young (and young at heart), the swings and slides brought out a sense of childhood wonder.
