Description

The NUS Postgraduate Fair 2026 runs on Saturday, 26 September 2026, at University Townâ??s Stephen Riady Centre. It is Day 1 of the NUS Lifelong Learning Festival, with a separate industry day at Kent Ridge on Monday, 28 September.

NUS positions the fair for people weighing further study and short courses in an AI-heavy labour market. The official site does not publish a full public hour-by-hour booth list on the landing page, so the practical next step is the festival registration link rather than guessing a walk-in window.

Where and how to register

Venue for Day 1 is University Town, Stephen Riady Centre. Registration is handled through GEVME at the festivalâ??s ticket page linked from the Lifelong Learning Festival site. Technical issues on the ticket flow go to joy.poh@gevme.com. Broader festival questions go to ask.scale@nus.edu.sg.

What Day 1 is for

Day 1 is the postgraduate fair. Day 2 on 28 September at NUS Kent Ridge Campus is framed for industry partners and professionals swapping notes with NUS domain experts on AI in business processes and services. If you only need programme booths and admissions conversations, 26 September is the date on the calendar. If you want the industry programme, hold 28 September instead.

Register on the official festival page, then compare the specific faculty pages for fees, intakes and eligibility.
