Outram Park Ya Hua Rou Gu Cha is leaving PSA Tanjong Pagar Complex. The Teochew bak kut teh shop at 7 Keppel Road serves its last bowls there on Thursday 31 December 2026, then reopens further along the same road, at Tanjong Pagar Distripark, in January 2027.

The shop broke the news to customers on Facebook on 20 November, with a moving notice that sets out both addresses. It is a relocation, not a closure. The yellow signboard and the round tables at Keppel Road have a little over five weeks left.

Where Ya Hua is going

The new shop is at Block 37 Keppel Road, #01-02A, Tanjong Pagar Distripark, Singapore 089064, in the same complex as the Singapore Art Museum. Ya Huaâ??s notice names Cantonment as the nearest MRT station; it is one of the three Circle Line stations that opened on 12 July. Both shops sit on Keppel Road, close enough for regulars to walk from the old address to the new one.

The month is fixed but the day is not. Ya Hua has given January 2027 for the reopening, with no date and no opening hours for the new unit yet.

The last weeks at Keppel Road

Until 31 December the old shop keeps its usual hours: 7am to 11pm from Tuesday to Saturday, 7am to 10pm on Sunday, closed on Monday. That early start is the reason Keppel Road works as a breakfast stop as much as a supper one. Ya Hua has not published separate hours for Christmas Day, which falls on a Friday.

What a bowl costs

The house style is Teochew: a clear soup led by pepper and garlic, with the pork ribs as the main event. These are the prices listed on Ya Huaâ??s website for the main soups and sides; they may change, particularly after the move:

- Spare ribs soup: S$8
- Pork ribs soup: S$7
- Sliced pork loin soup: S$7
- Pigâ??s stomach soup: S$8
- Fresh sliced fish soup: S$8, S$10 or S$15
- Braised pigâ??s trotters: S$7 or S$10
- Braised fried beancurd: S$3 or S$5
- Fried dough stick: S$2

Tea is charged by the table rather than the cup. The website lists S$4 for one or two people, S$5 for three or four, and S$6 for five or more, with Tie Guan Yin and 913 Kingâ??s Tea among the leaves.

The Havelock Road outlet

Ya Huaâ??s second outlet, at 593 Havelock Road, #01-01/02, Isetan Office Building, is not part of the move. It opens from 11am to 10pm, Tuesday to Sunday, and closes on Monday, so it is a lunch and dinner shop rather than a breakfast one. Bak kut teh before work stays a Keppel Road habit, at the old address until 31 December and at Distripark from January.
