Both tickets run under Paragon Club and need the membership QR code at participating stores. The bonus-points campaign is the bigger spend ladder; Weekday Savours is the dining top-up for quieter evenings.

Bonus points through 31 October

There are four tiers:

- 50 bonus points (worth S$20) on a S$600 spend, capped at 40 redemptions a day
- 375 bonus points (worth S$150) on a S$5,000 spend, capped at 50 redemptions a week
- 750 bonus points (worth S$300) on a S$10,000 spend, capped at 30 redemptions a month
- 1,500 bonus points (worth S$600) on a S$20,000 spend at selected fashion boutiques, capped at 20 redemptions a month

Up to three same-day receipts can be combined for a tier. Receipts need to be scanned the same day. The fashion-boutique list for the top tier sits in the campaign terms on the Paragon Club app and site.

Weekday Savours after 5pm

From Monday to Thursday after 5pm until 31 October, a S$60 nett spend on a single receipt at a participating F&B outlet unlocks a S$10 F&B e-voucher for Paragon Club members. The voucher lasts three months from issue. Redemptions are capped at the first 80 a day and one per member per day, while stocks last.

Participating names on the August list include Din Tai Fung, Song Fa Signatures, Crystal Jade Golden Palace, Imperial Treasure Super Peking Duck, Sushi Tei, Aburi-EN Grand, PS.Cafe, Maison PAUL, Toast Box, Cedele, The Soup Spoon and Henri Charpentier, alongside cafes and takeaway counters across the basement and upper floors. Dine-in and takeaway both count.

Paragon also flags separate outlet privileges at selected restaurants, from one-for-one deals to 20 per cent off the bill and set menus for two. Those sit on a second privileges list linked from the Weekday Savours page and change by outlet.

How to redeem

Present the Paragon Club QR code when you pay. Paragon is at 290 Orchard Road and opens 10am to 10pm daily. Both campaigns end on 31 October 2026.
