

Pizza Hut $10 Large Pizza: Takeaway Only, Tuesdays And Wednesdays

Description

The Pizza Hut $10 large pizza takeaway deal is back, and this time the brand is calling it six days only. It runs on Tuesdays and Wednesdays, which means it is on today. Against Pizza Hut's own listed price of $35.05 for a large, you are saving $25.05 per pizza.

Takeaway and self-collection only. Delivery is switched off for this one, so do not sit there waiting for the app to let you order it to your door.

What you get for $10

A full large pizza, in Pan or Crackinâ?? Thin Crust, from four flavours:

- BBQ Chunky Chic, no top-up
- Very Beefy, no top-up
- Chic Ham â??nâ?? Shroom, no top-up
- Otah Laksa Pizza, $1 top-up, so $11

The Otah Laksa is the new one and the reason a chunk of people will bother queuing. Coconut, spice and pizza cheese is a combination that either lands for you or absolutely does not, but at $11 for a large it is a cheap way to find out.

The rules, plainly

- Tuesdays and Wednesdays only, all trading hours, no time window
- Self-collection only. Delivery is excluded.
- No promo code needed. It sits in the Hot Deals section of the menu as its own item.
- Six days only, per Pizza Hut's own artwork, and while stocks last
- Around 54 self-collection points island-wide, though Pizza Hut has not published an exclusion list

One practical note. As of early this morning the item had not yet appeared on the live Hot Deals page, which is normal for a menu item that switches on when outlets open. Most stores start trading at 11am. If you cannot see it before then, check again after lunch rather than assuming it is finished.

Six Tuesdays and Wednesdays counting forward from today lands on 25 and 26 August, then 1, 2, 8 and 9 September. Pizza Hut itself has only said "6 days only, Tues & Wed", so treat those later dates as the likely run rather than a promise.

Worth adding, worth skipping

The combo lets you bolt on sides at normal prices: Sidewinders at $4.90, Garlic Mozzarella Pops at $6.50, drinks at $3.60. None of those are discounted, so the maths only works if you were going to buy them anyway.

The better move is two pizzas at $10 each and a bottle of something from the supermarket next door. Two large pizzas for $20 feeds four people without anyone pretending they are full.

Separately, there is an OCBC code on the site giving $3 off a minimum $30 spend, but it is delivery only. It will not stack with this.

How to order

1. Go to pizzahut.com.sg and choose self-collection, not delivery.
2. Pick your outlet, then open Hot Deals.
3. Select Takeaway Tuesday and Wednesday: $10 Large Pizza.
4. Choose your flavour and crust. Otah Laksa adds $1.
5. Pay and collect. No code required.

Payday week, a $10 large pizza and no delivery fee. If you are stacking your midweek lobangs, the Luckin 1-for-1 coffee deal runs until Sunday, and this week's supermarket ice cream price drops end tomorrow.
