PST, Tanjong Pagar: 31 October

PST, known for its Neapolitan-style pizzas, opened at 38 Tanjong Pagar Road in June 2025. Founder-chef Tsubasa Tamaki brought the brand here on a franchise with JAP Dining Concepts, which also runs sio pasta and Sushidan.

PST broke the news in an Instagram post. A JAP spokesman described the closure as a “pause” while the team considers PST’s “next chapter” in Singapore. The team gave no specific reason, only that the decision followed “careful consideration of the team’s plans for PST

Singapore and the wider dining portfolio?•.

The restaurant opens daily from 12pm to 3pm and 5pm to 10pm until its last day.

Long John Silver's, Woods Square: 30 October

A notice at the Woods Square outlet in Woodlands gives 30 October as its last day of operations, The Straits Times reported. The outlet was teeming with customers at lunchtime when ST visited on 23 October, and staff there were unsure whether they would be redeployed to other outlets.

It is the latest of several closures for the chain in 2026. Its Jurong Point outlet shut on 19 October, and at least four other outlets, in Suntec City, Admiralty, Commonwealth and Tampines, closed earlier in the year. The Long John Silver's website shows 11 outlets, down from 17 in July 2025.
