

Sam Lee One Day World Tour Comes To Singapore Indoor Stadium

Description

Sam Lee One Day World Tour @ Singapore is scheduled for 5 September 2026 at Singapore Indoor Stadium.

The Kallang describes the show as an evening of timeless love ballads, which is exactly the lane fans know him for: big, emotional Mandopop songs that work best in a full concert hall.

Sales And Prices

Tickets are listed from S$98 to S$288. OCBC Cards priority booking was listed for 25 May 2026 from noon to 11.59pm, Singtel priority started on 26 May 2026 at noon, and general sale opened from 27 May 2026 at noon.

The official ticketing route points to SISTIC. The ticket purchase limit is 12, with doors at 6.30pm and event time at 8pm.

- Venue: Singapore Indoor Stadium.
- Date: 5 September 2026.
- Ticket range: S$98 to S$288.
- Language: Mandarin.

Best Fit

This is a strong pick for listeners who prefer ballads over spectacle-first idol concerts. The venue is large, but the repertoire is likely to suit fans who want a focused vocal night rather than a festival-style bill.

If you are choosing between late-August and early-September Mandopop shows, this is the more ballad-driven option in the current Indoor Stadium batch.

That also changes the seat-choice logic. Fans who want to hear the vocals clearly may prefer a central view over chasing the closest possible angle, especially for a concert built around emotional delivery.

Before Heading To Kallang

Build in time for the Stadium Walk crowd and keep the official ticket route handy. The Kallang event page also carries the venue's concert scam advisory, which is a useful reminder to avoid resale links.
