

Scoot raises Phuket, Hat Yai and Clark frequencies for Northern Winter 2026/27

Description

Scoot is lifting frequencies on several Asia-Pacific routes for Northern Winter 2026/27, which runs from 25 October 2026 to 27 March 2027, with Phuket rising from 17 to 21 flights a week.

Scoot A320 family aircraft. Photo: Scoot.

Southeast Asia seats get denser

From October 2026 unless stated otherwise, Hat Yai moves from 12 to 14 times weekly and Phuket from 17 to 21. Clark in the Philippines goes from seven to 10 times weekly from December 2026. Kota Kinabalu rises from 10 to 13 times weekly from January 2027. Phu Quoc stays daily, with Scoot gradually shifting the route from Embraer E190-E2 aircraft to Airbus A320 family jets.

Okinawa and Tiruchirappalli

Outside Southeast Asia, Okinawa increases from four to five times weekly. Tiruchirappalli rises from 12 to 14 times weekly from December 2026.

Guiyang

Guiyang launches three times weekly from 26 October 2026 on Airbus A320neo aircraft, with one-way Economy Class fares from S$158 inclusive of taxes.

Schedules remain subject to government and regulatory approvals. Bookings are through Scoot's website and app, and progressively through other channels.

Date Created

05/09/2026

Author

sofiapereira