

Seasonal Tastes DBS Deal: 1-For-1 Buffet Dinner Until 15 May

Description

The Seasonal Tastes DBS deal is one of the cleaner dining offers to check before mid-May. DBS lists 1-for-1 Buffet Dinner from Monday to Sunday for the period 2 January to 15 May 2026 at Seasonal Tastes, The Westin Singapore. The same DBS page says 50% off Buffet Lunch for every second diner applies during the same period, before the offer switches to semi-buffet mechanics from 16 May.

For buffet diners, the date matters. If you want the full 1-for-1 buffet dinner version of the deal, the current window runs only until 15 May 2026. After that, DBS lists 1-for-1 Semi-Buffer Dinner from 16 May to 31 August, followed by different 50% second-diner offers later in the year. That makes this a deal for people who can book soon and who are comfortable with the stated terms.

What You Get

DBS lists Seasonal Tastes 1-for-1 buffet and semi-buffet offers for cardholders.

The headline is 1-for-1 Buffet Dinner for adults, valid Monday to Sunday until 15 May under the DBS listing. DBS also lists 50% off Buffet Lunch for every second diner during the same initial period. The offer is tied to payment with a valid DBS/POSB credit or debit card.

Because this is a hotel buffet, the actual saving depends on the day, menu, service charge and taxes. Always compare the final bill for your table size rather than assuming the phrase 1-for-1 means the entire meal is half-price in every situation.

Terms To Check Before Booking

Seasonal Tastes shows its buffet line on the restaurant's official gallery.

DBS states that advance reservation is required and the maximum is 10 pax per reservation. The offer is for adults aged 13 and above, and it is not valid on special occasions, the eve of and on public holidays. Other blackout dates may apply, so the phone or booking confirmation should be treated as part of the deal check.

The offer also cannot be stacked with other promotions, discounts or vouchers. If you have a hotel dining membership, credit card dining programme or separate voucher, ask which one gives the better final bill before deciding.

Who This Deal Suits

Seafood on ice is part of the Seasonal Tastes buffet appeal.

This is best for pairs or even-numbered groups planning a hotel buffet dinner before 15 May. It is less useful for solo diners, very small eaters, or families with children whose age and pricing may fall outside the simple adult offer. The terms are designed around adult buffet dining.

It can also work for an office catch-up or birthday meal if the group is organised. The practical issue is reservation availability. A popular 1-for-1 hotel buffet can fill desirable slots quickly, especially near the end of the promotion window.

Grace Lim's Dining Take

I would use this deal only if Seasonal Tastes was already on your shortlist. The Westin setting makes sense for a proper hotel dinner, but a buffet deal is not automatically cheap once service charge, GST and drinks enter the bill. The value is strongest when the group genuinely wants the spread.

Before confirming, I would ask the restaurant to repeat the DBS/POSB offer, blackout dates and payment rule. Then I would put the cardholder in charge of the final bill so the table does not discover the wrong payment method at the end of dinner.

How To Book Cleanly

Start from the official DBS offer page, read the Seasonal Tastes terms, then use the booking route or contact point listed by DBS or The Westin Singapore. Mention the DBS dining privilege when reserving and again before ordering or being seated.

On the day itself, bring the eligible DBS/POSB card, check the bill before payment, and confirm that the discount has been reflected. The neatest deals are the ones where everyone understands the terms before the food arrives.

Before You Book The Buffet

The important detail is the date. DBS lists the 1-for-1 buffet dinner window until 15 May 2026, after which the page moves into semi-buffet dinner mechanics. If you specifically want the full buffet dinner version, book within the current window and confirm the promotion when making the reservation.

Ask the restaurant how your exact table will be charged. DBS frames the deal around adults aged 13 and above, so a family table with younger children may not divide neatly into a simple two-for-one calculation. For groups, it is also worth confirming whether the promotion applies cleanly to the full party size and whether any blackout date affects your preferred slot.

Once you are seated, tell the staff you are using the DBS/POSB dining privilege before ordering. That is a small step, but it prevents the awkward end-of-meal situation where the cardholder expects a discount that the restaurant says should have been declared earlier.

For a date-night booking, the cleanest use is a table for two on a normal dining day before the 15 May cut-off. For a larger group, call first and ask how the restaurant applies the offer across the number of adults at the table.

It is also worth asking what the buffet line includes for your chosen day. Hotel buffets can change by meal period, weekday, weekend or special theme, and the value of a 1-for-1 deal depends on whether the spread matches what you actually want to eat. If seafood, carving stations or desserts are the reason you are booking, confirm those details directly with Seasonal Tastes.

Do not forget the full bill. Service charge, GST and drinks can change the final amount, so compare the expected out-of-pocket cost with other dining options nearby. The deal is attractive when the table wants a hotel buffet experience, not when everyone only wants a quick dinner.

Best Deal Fit

The Seasonal Tastes DBS deal is strongest for adult pairs or even-numbered groups who can book before 15 May and want a proper hotel buffet dinner at The Westin Singapore. Check blackout dates and reservation terms before committing.
