

Singapore Comic Con 2026 tickets from S$38, 4 to 6 December

Description

default watermark

Singapore Comic Con 2026 tickets start at S$38 for a one-day pass, and the show lands at Marina Bay Sands Expo from 4 to 6 December. Kids under 8 walk in free, with up to two per paying adult. The official line-up includes comics legend Frank Miller, three Power Rangers stars and a Singapore-made Spider-Man fan film getting its first public preview.

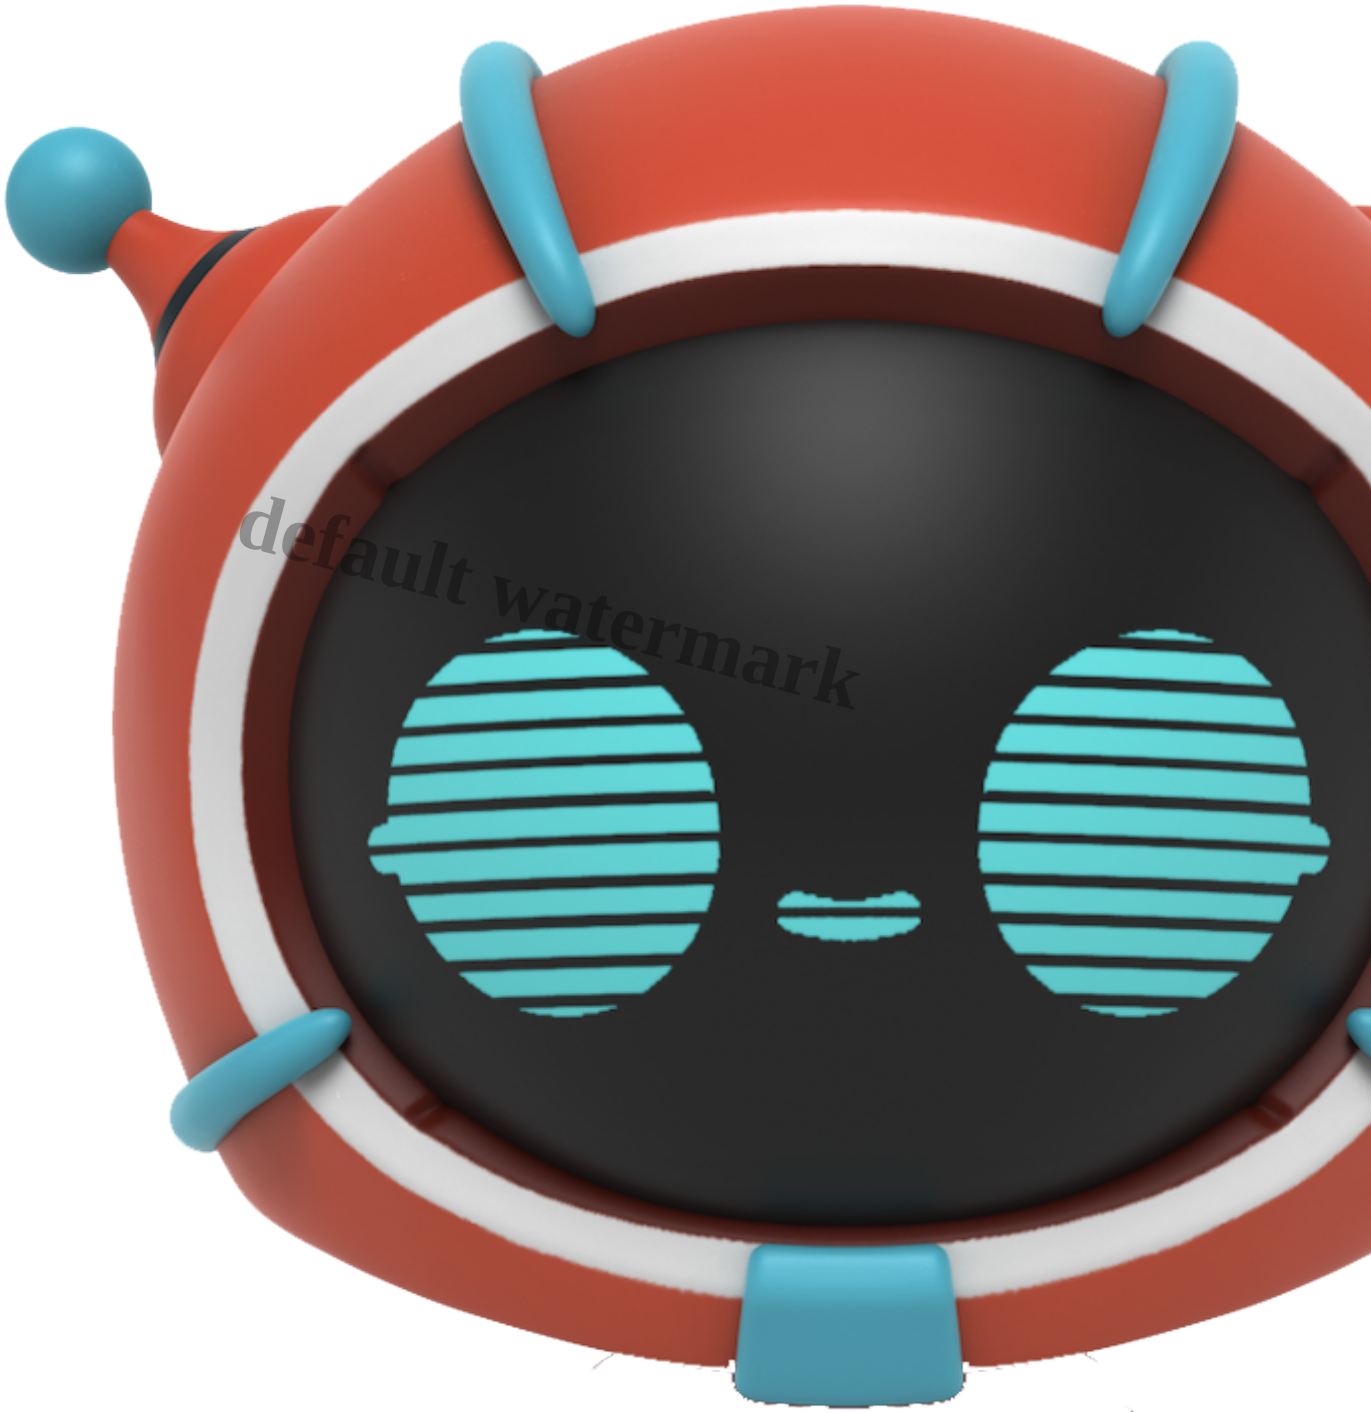

Here is the ticket maths, the schedule and what to buy before you go.

Singapore Comic Con 2026 tickets and prices

The organisers list these passes on the official ticket page, for the Sands Expo & Convention Centre (Level 1 and Basement 2):

- S$38: one-day ticket, either 5 or 6 December, 10.30am to 8pm
- S$48: one-day ticket plus one hour of early access, from 9.30am
- S$68: two-day ticket for 5 and 6 December
- S$78: Ultimate Preview Night only, 4 December, 5pm to 9pm
- S$128: two-day ticket plus Ultimate Preview Night
- S$288: Superhero Pack with fast-lane access, lounge access, badge and lanyard, tees, a notebook, a tote bag and a comic variant cover

Packs and merch come in limited quantities, so the add-ons can run out before the weekend itself. The kids-under-8 rule saves a fair bit for a family of four.

Source: Singapore Comic Con

Preview Night: Frank Miller, Power Rangers and a face-change act

The Friday preview night is the busiest stretch of the programme. The official stage schedule runs like this:

- 5.30pm to 6.10pm: Frank Miller and Peach Momoko in conversation
- 6.20pm to 6.40pm: Power Rangers reunion with Tracy Lynn Cruz, Catherine Sutherland and Nakia Burrise
- 6.45pm to 7.15pm: Enishi, the Japanese face-change performer from Americaâ??s Got Talent
- 7.30pm to 8.15pm: live sketch showcase by five SuperAni artists

Want a signature? Frank Miller meet-and-greets are priced from S$499 a head, with one photo and one autograph each. Sessions run on 4 December from 6.30pm and on 5 December from 11am, capped at 100 participants. Original sketches start from S$3,999, so that one is strictly for serious collectors.

What else is on the weekend stages

The main stage has a pop-punk set from The Webheads, a Helldivers 2 inspired show by the 117th Strike Battalion and a cosplay competition. One local highlight is a 10-minute first look at The Extraordinary Spider-Man, a live-action fan film by 22-year-old RP alumnus Nero Omar, with an online release planned for 2027.

default watermark

At booth L1-D06, SINOCOLL is debuting a China IP Zone with more than 30 animation, anime and gaming titles, including Wuthering Waves. Mezco Toyz is also bringing a limited-edition Gomez figure, Kuro Ronin, as a live-drop exclusive.

SINGAPORE
COMIC CON

Source: Singapore Comic Con

Exclusive merch to plan around

Show exclusives are collected at the SGCC merch counter on the day itself. Prices from the official page:

- S$19: Artgerm x SGCC A5 notebook
- S$29: Lucio Parrillo and Carla Cohen tote bag
- S$35: â??Running On Creativityâ?• tee, or â??Running On Imaginationâ?• tee
- S$39: Peach Momoko or Olivier Coipel tee
- S$68: set of two SGCC tees
- S$79: Peach Momoko hooded jacket

The event site also has a Culture Pass button, so check it if you have SG Culture Pass credits to use.

default watermark

default watermark

Source: Singapore Comic Con

Plan your day

Go for the 9.30am early-access slot if you hate queues, and screenshot the stage times because programmes can shift. Marina Bay Sands connects to Bayfront MRT, so you stay dry if it rains. Hit the merch counter first, then wander the halls while the crowds build.

Still deciding how to spend your December? Our guide to Anime Festival Asia 2026 at Suntec covers the other big fandom weekend, and the weekend things-to-do guide has this weekâ??s picks. If you prefer art over cosplay, More than Human at ArtScience Museum opens on 28 November.

Date Created
22/11/2026
Author
priya

default watermark