

Singapore Airlines DBS Deal: S$50 Off Per Person From 12 May

Description

The Singapore Airlines DBS deal is timed for people ready to book soon. DBS lists S$50 off per person on flights for DBS/POSB cardmembers, with the next campaign period running from 12 May to 18 May 2026 at 10am SGT.

The promo code to note is DBS50OFF. Redemptions are limited and on a first-come, first-served basis, so the useful part of the deal is whether the discount appears before you confirm the booking.

Key Details

The offer gives S$50 off per person with promo code DBS50OFF. Earlier campaign windows in January, February, March and April are marked fully redeemed on the official DBS page.

The May window is listed as 12 May to 18 May 2026. DBS also lists another window from 9 June to 15 June 2026. Travel period details are stated as advised on the Singapore Airlines website.

Main Terms

Use promo code DBS50OFF when booking through the official Singapore Airlines path linked from DBS. Because redemptions are limited, the code may stop working before the end of the listed campaign period.

The discount is per person, so families and groups should check the final fare carefully before payment. Taxes, fare rules, baggage conditions and change fees still follow the Singapore Airlines booking terms.

How To Claim

Go through the official DBS promotion page, select the Singapore Airlines booking link, enter DBS50OFF, and check that the S$50 per-person discount is reflected before payment.

Pay with an eligible DBS/POSB card and keep a copy of the booking confirmation. If the discount is not visible at checkout, do not assume it will be applied later.

Deal Verdict

This deal is best for travellers who already know their route and dates. A S$50 per-person saving can be useful, especially for a family booking, but only if the base fare is still competitive.

The May 2026 campaign opens on 12 May and is limited by redemption availability, so treat it as a checkout check rather than a guaranteed discount through 18 May.
