

Singapore Flyer's National Day Line-Up: Night Market, NDP Screening and SG61 Deals

Description

Singapore Flyer is going all in on SG61. The Marina Bay attraction has lined up a festive programme for Singapore's 61st birthday, headlined by the return of its waterfront night market, a free National Day Parade live screening, two new firsts at 165 Sky Dining and a pair of $61 promotions running all August.

Street Eats Under the Stars returns, one day longer

Street Eats Under the Stars is back for a third edition at the Singapore Flyer Waterfront Promenade, running 5 to 10 August, 3pm to 10pm daily. Expect night market fare and live music with the wheel as a backdrop. After last year's response, the organisers have extended the run by a day. Admission is free.

There is also a stamp card challenge built around self-guided activities across the Flyer precinct. Finish it and you can redeem a gift plus go into the draw for a dining experience at 165 Sky Dining. Stamp cards are collected by presenting a same-day Singapore Flyer admission ticket at the attraction entrance or ticketing counter.

165 Sky Dining now welcomes children under seven into shared capsules, with a dedicated children's menu. Image: Singapore Flyer.

Free National Day Parade screening on 9 August

On 9 August, the Flyer's Greek Theatre, a 521-square-metre amphitheatre on the Marina Bay waterfront, hosts a complimentary live screening of the National Day Parade 2026 Show. The pre-show starts at 5.30pm. In a nod to homegrown brands, there are complimentary Tiger Beer samples while stocks last.

Two firsts at 165 Sky Dining

The bigger news for families: 165 Sky Dining is welcoming children under seven into shared dining capsules for the first time, and has introduced a dedicated children's menu for ages three to twelve. The four-course menu is $130 nett and includes dishes such as Cream of Hokkaido Corn and *Breaded Cod Fish with House Tartar Sauce and Vegetable Crudité*s.

At the other end of the spectrum, single-seat bookings at $260 nett are now available, so solo travellers can take the four-course contemporary French menu 165 metres above the city without booking a whole capsule. Enquiries and private bookings go to sales@singaporeflyer.com.

Single-seat bookings at 165 Sky Dining are now available at $260 nett. Image: Singapore Flyer.

The SG61 deals

Throughout August, Singapore Citizens and Permanent Residents get two promotions:

- SG61 Buddy Deal â?? $61 for two Singapore Flyer tickets (usual price $92)
- SG61 Sip and Soar â?? $61 for the Singapore Sling or Premium Champagne Experience (usual price $79)

On top of that, everyone dining at 165 Sky Dining during August receives a complimentary Singapore Sling cocktail or mocktail.

Key dates

- Street Eats Under the Stars: 5 to 10 August 2026, 3pm to 10pm daily, free admission
- NDP 2026 live screening: 9 August 2026, pre-show from 5.30pm, Greek Theatre, free
- SG61 deals: throughout August 2026, for Singapore Citizens and PRs

More details are on the Singapore Flyer website.

For more SG61 ideas, see the Shangri-La National Day offers and the National Day dining at Fairmont Singapore and Swissôtel The Stamford.

Image credits: Singapore Flyer.

Date Created

29/07/2026

Author

priya

default watermark