

Singapore History Gallery Revamp: What To Visit Before October 2026

Description

default watermark

The National Museumâ??s Singapore History Gallery is closed for revamp and is scheduled to reopen in October 2026, so visitors need a slightly different plan for the next few months.

The museum directs visitors to Once Upon a Tide and Singapore Odyssea while the main gallery is being refreshed. That still gives families, students and tourists a substantial Singapore-history route.

What To Visit Instead

Once Upon a Tide covers Singaporeâ??s journey from settlement to global city, while Singapore Odyssea gives visitors a multimedia experience inside the Shaw Foundation Glass Rotunda.

If you are bringing children, start with the immersive or interactive elements first, then add more reading-heavy sections only if they still have energy.

Singapore History Gallery Revamp: What To Visit Before October 2026. Image: official source.

Planning Notes

The National Museum opens daily from 10am to 7pm. Singapore Citizens and Permanent Residents receive free admission for permanent galleries, while special exhibitions may have separate ticketing conditions.

Singapore History Gallery Revamp: What To Visit Before October 2026. Image: official source.

Location

National Museum of Singapore, 93 Stamford Road, Singapore 178897
Google Maps | Apple Maps

Official details: Singapore History Gallery Revamp: What To Visit Before October 2026.

Date Created
15/05/2026
Author
claratan

default watermark