Singapore National Day 2026: What's Happening and When

Mark your calendars, because the celebrations peak on National Day itself. The public holiday falls on Sunday, 9 August 2026, with Monday, 10 August observed as the off day. That means a three-day long weekend to enjoy.

- Main event: National Day Parade 2026 at the National Stadium, Singapore Sports Hub.
- Theme: “Go Beyond!”, celebrating the enduring Singapore Spirit as we turn 61.
- Date: Sunday, 9 August 2026, with the ceremonial parade and evening show.
- Long weekend: Monday, 10 August 2026 is the observed public holiday.

Where to Catch the NDP 2026 Fireworks for Free

No tickets? No problem. The fireworks light up the Kallang and Marina Bay skyline, and there are plenty of free vantage points if you arrive early. These spots fill up fast, so bring a mat and stake your claim.

- Marina Barrage: Wide open rooftop lawn, ideal for families with young children.
- Esplanade waterfront: Clear views across the bay and easy MRT access.
- Merlion Park: An iconic backdrop, though it gets very crowded.
- Gardens by the Bay: Combine the fireworks with an evening stroll among the Supertrees.

Family-Friendly National Day Activities

SG61 is not just about the parade. Across the island, heartland activations and cultural experiences make it easy to soak up the National Day mood without leaving your neighbourhood.

- Free admission to National Heritage Board museums over the National Day period.
- Community and heartland celebrations organised by grassroots groups near you.
- NDP Funpacks featuring unique artworks, distributed to attendees.
- Light shows and displays around Marina Bay and Gardens by the Bay.

How to Get NDP 2026 Tickets

Tickets to the National Day Parade at the National Stadium are free, but they are balloted because demand is always sky-high. Keep an eye on the official NDP channels for application windows and collection details. Successful applicants are advised to collect their tickets from the morning to mid-afternoon for shorter queues.

Go Beyond! This SG61

From the roar of the crowd at the National Stadium to fireworks bursting over the bay, Singapore National Day 2026 promises a shiok celebration for every generation. Round up the family, plan your viewing spot early, and get ready to wave the flag. Majulah Singapura, and here is to going beyond together.
