

Singapore Smash 2027 tickets: seats from S$28 at OCBC Arena, up to S$688 on the closing night

Description

default watermark

Tickets for Singapore Smash 2027 are on general sale, with the cheapest seats at S$28 for the opening afternoons on 20 and 21 February. The table tennis tournament, one of four WTT Grand Smash events in the world, runs from 18 to 28 February 2027 at OCBC Arena in The Kallang, and the closing evening on 28 February tops out at S$688 for a Smash Lounge seat.

fault watermark

The official poster for Singapore Smash 2027, which runs from 18 to 28 February 2027 at The Kallang. Image: Resorts World Sentosa / WTT Singapore Smash

General sale opened on 20 November online at axs.com and on the hotline at +65 6348 5555, after a two-day presale. Each transaction is capped at six tickets, and the listed prices exclude a booking fee.

What a seat costs, session by session

The main draw has 18 sessions over nine days, an afternoon session at 12pm and an evening one at 6pm, except on 28 February, when the evening session starts at 7pm.

For the first eight sessions, from 20 to 23 February, the tiers are Smash Lounge, Platinum, Gold and general admission. General admission costs S$28 on the afternoons of 20 and 21 February, S$38 for both sessions on 22 February and the afternoon of 23 February, and S$58 on the evenings of 20, 21 and 23 February. Gold runs from S$48 to S$78 and Platinum from S$118 to S$148 over the same four days.

default watermark

From session 9 on 24 February, general admission gives way to three numbered categories. Category 3 starts at S$48 that afternoon and climbs to S$88 for all four sessions on 26 and 27 February. On 28 February it costs S$128 in the afternoon and S$168 in the evening, when Category 1 is S$308, Gold S$488 and Platinum S$588.

SESSION 1 | 20 FEB (AFTERNOON)
SMASH LOUNGE $168
PLATINUM $118
GOLD $48
GENERAL ADMISSION $28
SESSION 2 | 20 FEB (EVENING)
SMASH LOUNGE $188
PLATINUM $138
GOLD $78
GENERAL ADMISSION $58
SESSION 3 | 21 FEB (AFTERNOON)
SMASH LOUNGE $168
PLATINUM $118
GOLD $48
GENERAL ADMISSION $28
SESSION 4 | 21 FEB (EVENING)
SMASH LOUNGE $188
PLATINUM $138
GOLD $78
GENERAL ADMISSION $58
SESSION 5 | 22 FEB (AFTERNOON)
SMASH LOUNGE $188
PLATINUM $128
GOLD $58
GENERAL ADMISSION $38
SESSION 6 | 22 FEB (EVENING)
SMASH LOUNGE $208
PLATINUM $128
GOLD $58
GENERAL ADMISSION $38
SESSION 7 | 23 FEB (AFTERNOON)
SMASH LOUNGE $188
PLATINUM $128
GOLD $58
GENERAL ADMISSION $38

Prices for sessions 1 to 8, from 20 to 23 February 2027, when general admission runs from S$28 to S$58. Image: WTT Singapore Smash pricelist via The Kallang

The booking fee is S$1 a ticket up to S$20, S$3 above S$20 up to S$40, S$4 above S$40 up to S$50, S$5 above S$50 up to S$70 and S$6 above S$70. A S$28 seat therefore comes to S$31, and the cheapest final-night seat to S$174.

Free qualifying, and the add-on pass

The qualifying draw on 18 and 19 February, at 10am and 6pm, is free for WTT Fans. Tickets for sessions 1 to 9 also come with access to Smash Arena in Hall 2, with a queue if that hall fills.

The Singapore Smash Experience is an add-on, not a ticket, priced from S$168 to S$308 depending on the session. It covers access to halls, practice areas, an Experience Lounge and the pre-match call areas, and it cannot be shared. Resorts World Sentosa, the presenting partner, also sells hotel and ticket bundles on its own site.

default watermark

A giant ball branded for Singapore Smash 2026, the previous edition, in a still from a Resorts World Sentosa promotional video. Image: Resorts World Sentosa

Who can go, and refunds

Everyone aged three and above needs a ticket. Infants in arms and children under three are not admitted, children under 12 must be with an adult aged 18 or over, and under-18s are not allowed in the lounge. Doors open an hour before each session.

Bags must fit under a seat, at no larger than 35cm by 20cm by 30cm. Outside food and drink are not allowed, though water bottles that are not glass can be brought in empty. Professional cameras, GoPros, selfie sticks and tripods are banned.

Tickets cannot be refunded or exchanged. The organiserâ??s terms say prices may change without notice under dynamic pricing. If a whole session or day is cancelled, buyers get back the price of that session, though booking fees may be kept, but there is no refund if the schedule changes and play still goes ahead.

Getting there

default watermark

OCBC Arena, which hosts the Singlife Nations Cup netball from 29 November, is a four-minute, 300m walk from Exit B of Stadium MRT station on the Circle Line, by The Kallangâ??s estimate. Mountbatten station, also on the Circle Line, is a 15-minute walk away.

Date Created
25/11/2026
Author
jadeyeo