

TOFU G Opens Mandarin Gallery Flagship with Earl Grey Hojicha Gelato

Description

Singapore's original tofu gelato label has just levelled up. TOFU G has opened a new flagship on Level 2 of Mandarin Gallery along Orchard Road, and the brand is calling it its most complete dessert destination yet. Leading the launch is an Earl Grey Hojicha Tofu Gelato available only at this outlet, alongside a full spread of puddings, tiramisu, mochi and live-churned gelato.

TOFU G Earl Grey Hojicha tofu gelato, exclusive to the Mandarin Gallery outlet. Image: TOFU G

An Orchard Road home for house-made tofu desserts

What began as the Republic's first tofu gelato has grown into a proper dessert house. The new Mandarin Gallery space is designed as a calm retreat in the middle of Orchard's bustle, drawing on modern hanok architecture with warm wood, soft cream tones and natural textures. It is the kind of quiet, considered room that invites you to slow down over a cup of gelato.

TOFU G's new flagship outlet at Mandarin Gallery, Orchard Road. Image: TOFU G

The exclusive: Earl Grey Hojicha gelato

The headline act is the Earl Grey Hojicha gelato ($8), pitched as a three-layer tea experience you can only find at Mandarin Gallery. It opens with the roasted, nutty depth of hojicha, moves through the gentle citrus fragrance of Earl Grey, and finishes with a clean lift of yuzu. It is vegan, made with tofu, and a smart nod to the tea-forward desserts Singaporeans have taken to lately.

TOFU Gâ??s full tofu dessert collection. Image: TOFU G

Beyond gelato: the full dessert line-up

The flagship brings together TOFU Gâ??s widest menu to date. There is a Tofu Tiramisu built on a silky tofu base with coconut cream and a hint of coffee, offered in Injeolmi, Cocoa and Matcha. The chilled Tofu Pudding, served in the brandâ??s signature glass jars, comes in Original, Pistachio and Black Sesame. Rounding things off is Koreaâ??s Chewy Butter Mochi, crisp outside and soft within, in Original and Injeolmi.

default watermark

TOFU G Tofu Tiramisu on a silky tofu base. Image: TOFU G

The signature gelato line-up is here too, spanning Original Tofu, High-Protein Tofu, Vegan Tofu, Black Sesame, Pistachio and Pomegranate, all at $8 a cup. Every creation starts with fresh tofu made in-house from premium non-GMO soybeans, and the gelato is live-churned so each scoop is served at its creamiest.

TOFU G's Korea-style chewy butter mochi. Image: TOFU G

What to know before you go

The new outlet sits at 333A Orchard Road, #02-26 Mandarin Gallery, Singapore 238867, and opens daily from 11am to 10pm. If you have enjoyed the brand's two-storey dessert house on Amoy Street, this Orchard address is an easy addition to a weekend in town.

TOFU Gâ??s hanok-inspired interior at Mandarin Gallery. Image: TOFU G

For more of our tofu-fuelled coverage, see how TOFU G first won over Amoy Street with its two-storey dessert house and the brandâ??s first-birthday celebrations. Craving something savoury nearby? Try Katsu by Kyuâ??s Jeju pork tonkatsu.

Date Created

06/08/2026

Author

meichua

default watermark